Beating The Minimum

The quality of Pacific Milk is ensured by several things, chief of which is the friendly contest among the producers for leadership each week. All milk is tested before acceptance. It must reach a certain minimum, though the minimum could be raised quite easily as no farmer will allow his product to "just get in."

WHERE ARE CHAMPIONS OF PERSONAL LIBERTY

(Edmonton Journal)

Edmonton hotel proprietors have decided to refuse to serve beer to women. But surely the champions of "personal liberty" will protest, or is personal liberty to drink intoxicants in public houses only ordained for males in Edmonton?

CANCELLATION OF RESERVE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Reserve existing over expired Timber Licence No. 14818, situated on Pitt Island, Range 4, Coast District, is cancelled.

USE AND STORAGE

TAKE NOTICE that Los Angeles Lumber Products Company, whose address is c/o. Messrs. Ladner & Cantelon, Rogers Bldg., Vancouver, B.C., also Box "C" San Pedro, California, U.S.A., will apply for a licence to take and use 500 cubic feet per second, and to store 75 thousand acre feet of water out of Ain River, which flows southerly and drains into Masset Inlet, about one half mile easterly from Buckley Bay. The storage-dam will be located at the outlet of Ain Lake or at a point below the said outlet to be determined after surveys are made. The capacity of the reservoir to be created is about 75 thousand acre feet and it will flood about 3,800 acres of land. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about the location of the storage-dam, namely the outlet of Ain Lake, and will be used for Power and Industrial purposes upon the land described as Lot 1434, Queen Charlotte Islands District. This notice was posted on the ground on the 19th day of February, 1926. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act, 1914," will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Prince Rupert, B.C. The date of the first publication of this notice is February 23, 1926.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE OF CREW OF ANNA J. WHEN STRUCK BY HUGE WAVE

calling for help. We could not get to him because our life boat was gone. All there was for us to do was to await until we drifted close to him.

"A miraculous thing which cannot be accounted for was that while everything else had disappeared there was a piece of buoyline about ten fathoms long left on deck. Had we not found that line, Mansfield could not have been saved.

Looked Like End

"Meanwhile, we were having trouble with the pump which had become stopped up with bait and other debris. The hatches, the tops of which had been swept completely off and which I tried to cover up with what was left of the covers, would not stay closed on account of the sea and wind. After operating for a while, the pump stopped up completely and it looked like the end then. Having no idea of giving up, however, we found an empty oil can, punched one end in and started baling with that too. All day we worked desperately with the icy air and water seemingly freezing us to the marrow. All we had on was out underwear, socks and trousers, just as we had tumbled out of bed. I had been stepping on nails and the next morning I could hardly stand on my legs what with pain and swelling. I thought at first I had blood poisoning.

"By five in the afternoon we had the boat almost empty of water after having worked like mad. Had another wave slopped over us during that day we would certainly have been swamped and drowned. We then cleared the pump, pulled in the sail and, cutting that up, covered up the hatches by nailing on pieces of the sail.

Best Coffee in Life

"Capt. Lawler had been hurt badly in the chest and, in the attempt to become more comfortable, went below to try and build the fire. He looked around the focsle for about an hour before he could find the stove lid which, as if they had floated, were finally found on a shelf on the opposite side of the boat. There was not a dry piece of wood but a can of coal oil helped us and at last we had a fire going. Hot coffee tasted the best we had ever had in our lives and renewed life and circulation in our bodies. We had then worked seven hours in the cold and wet with nothing on other than our underclothes.

"After dark we gave up further work and stayed around the stove trying to keep warm. It was difficult to keep from dozing during that long night as, with exposure and hard work, we were exhausted.

"Morning finally came, however, and we got the engine started and set out, one man sitting in the focsle assisting in the steering and another at the top of the gangway directing the steering of the boat. We ran till 6 that evening. Lack of compass and chart hampered our progress as we were unable to determine direction except by the sun. The next morning at 6 o'clock, we started up again after another sleepless night and at noon we had Cape St. Elias abeam. It was then blowing a stiff gale and the seas were washing over the boat. We headed for Wingham Island where we thought we might get ashore and obtain assistance from a fox-rancher located there. However, up under the island, we sighted a boat and found it to be the schooner Superior of Seattle.

Hospital Treatment

"We tied up to the Superior about 2 o'clock that afternoon and received most kind and generous treatment. We have a lot to thank the men of the Superior for and we will never forget their kindness. Most all our provisions were either lost or spoiled by oil though we had some halibut, a few potatoes, lots of coffee and a few lumps sugar. Our coal supply was exhausted as five sacks had gone overboard. The crew of the Superior took us aboard and, after feeding us, let us rest in their bunks. We were given food for the journey to Cordova on which the captain of the Superior decided he would accompany us.

"We lost nearly all our personal belongings and, what we did not lose, were saturated with oil or grease. One of the features of the whole occurrence was the lack of panic. The whole problem of saving ourselves by saving out boat was taken calmly.

"The Anna J. left Ketchikan on February 27 on the trip which nearly put an end to her existence. All evidence points to the fact that she turned completely over, at least once."

FRED MARKLAND HOST AT SATURDAY DANCE

A delightful dance was held in the Elks' Home on Saturday evening when Provincial Constable Fred Markland was host to a number of his personal friends. About 40 couples attended and thoroughly enjoyed dancing to excellent music furnished by Arthur's orchestra consisting of Mrs. R. P. Ponder, piano; D. Eastman, saxophone; and R. Arthur Jr., drums. Refreshments were served at 11 o'clock under the supervision of Mrs. Andrew McDonald, assisted by Mrs. (Capt.) James Morrison, Mrs. James Parsons and Provincial Constable Wyman. Dancing was afterwards continued until about midnight.

MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

Harold Lloyd in "The Freshman"

The brightest twinkle of a big star. Harold, rushing, chuckling, smashing, dashing along the field of mirth. A photoplay that brings everything that makes life worth living. Laughs galore. Thrills and heart-throbs. Packed, rammed, jammed and crammed with joy and wildly hysterical fun. Poor Harold. His name was Lamb, but they made him the college goat until he saved the day at the big football match. Then he was a hero, but their cheers were as nothing to the note Peggy had written to him with the magic words, "I love you." Merriment, speed, laughter woven into a glorious song of youth and romance. A comedy supreme. Strong cast.

Harold Lloyd, Jobyna Ralston, Brooks Benedict, James Anderson, Joe Harrington, Pat Harmon, Hazel Keener and others.
