HAPPY CHRISTMASTIDE AT OONA RIVER BEING ENJOYED BY EVERYONE

OONA RIVER, Dec. 31. - Christmas festivities which have been in progress ever since Friday evening will conclude with a big dance at the schoolhouse tonight. It has been one of the finest Christmas seasons ever spent here.

At the school house there was a Christmas tree and every fine time, particularly the There was good music by Sam Clausen Neis Lind and E. Enrot played the violin and Julius Haldand on the accordion. with Miss Margaret Fossum and Mrs. Emma Fospum accompanying on the piano. Dancing, singing and games were enjoyed and there was an abundance of goodies which were sent out by L. Murray Fuller, the Prince Rupert grocer, and which were deeply appreciated by all.

Since Christmas Day, there has been a number of parties and happy gatherings in various homes.

TWO WEDDINGS IN MASSETT THIS WEEK

Miss Emily Stanley Becomes Bride of Airred Swanson, and Miss Maria Ridley Married to Kenneth Davies

MASSETT, Dec. 31-Two weddings took place in the Indian village this week. On Monday, Alfred Swanson was united in marriage to Emily Stanley. After the ceremony at the church, which was performed by the Rev. J. Gillett, the party went to the town hall where a wedding dinner was served. After everyone had partaken heartily of the splendid repast, speeches were made by Robert Ridley, Roger Wiat, Capt. Dawson, Henry Edenshaw, L. H. Baillie and others. Dancing followed until the wee sma' hours.

The second event was a celebration of the nuptials between Kenneth Davis of Howken, Alaska, and Maria Ridley of Massett. Rev. J. Gillett read the marriage service at the church, following which the many guests sat down to a well laden table in the Town Hall. Interspersed with a good deal of humor, the good wishes of the community were conveyed to the bride and groom by Rev. J. Gillett, Robert Ridley, Matthew Yeomans, Capt. Dawson, Henry Edenshaw, L. H. Baillie, Andrew Brown, Alfred Adams and others. A pleasant evening SCHOOL CONCERT AT of dancing was enjoyed by the young

BIRTHDAY AND XMAS PARTIES WERE HELD BY PORT EDWARD LADY

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson gave a Christmas dinner to ten persons at their home at Port Edward on Christmas Day. The rooms were prettily decorated and there was also a Christmas tree. After dinner, there was dancing and games, the happy affair not breaking up until 2 o'clock the next morning.

Those present were John Lehto, Leo Lehto, Vienna Lehto, Henry Hansen, Jesse James, George Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hanson, Elsie Larsen, Mrs. A. E. Nixon.

On the next day Mrs. Johnson had her twentieth birthday, the occasion being celebrated with suitable festivities. There were many presents and dancing was in progress till 4 a.m.

A new Bell organ costing in the neighborhood of $300 has been purchased for the church here. The providing of the necessary funds is being done entirely by the Indians.

L. H. Baillie of Massett has been appointed issuer of marriage licenses.

The Islands experienced a taste of winter last week. Commencing Friday a drop in temperature took place. The frost continued until Sunday night. The boys had a day of skating on Monday. Tuesday morning it was snowing heavily and by noon it had changed to rain. The past two days have been bright and warm.

SKIDEGATE

Everyone on the Islands is delighted at Rev. James Gillett of Massett having been appointed Indian Agent. It is felt that he is the right man in the right place for the position.

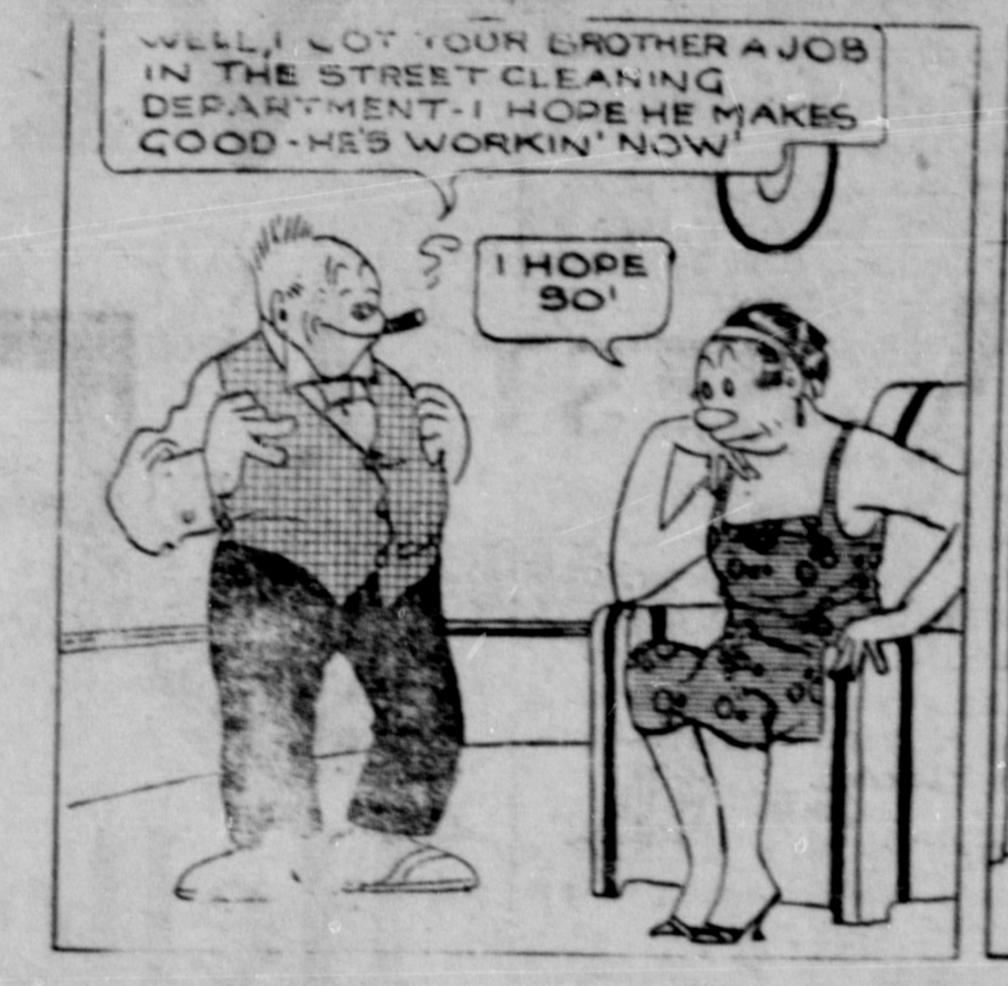

Capt. E. C. Wiggins of Tiell is down spending the Christmas and New Yea. season with friends in Skidegate. H: says he likes to be among friends and bend his arm at least once a year.

Miss Dorothy Barge is up from Vancouver spending the Christmas and New Year esason visiting with her parents at Queen Charlotte City and friends at Skidegate.

J. Kitson of Sandspit, who was in town this week, reported great success with his black fox farm there. He started with two pups and now has seven full grown foxes which he says cannot be beaten anywhere.

BRINGING UP FATHER

CANADIAN LEGION'S NEW YEAR.

We were sitting down together, our hearts packed full of cheer. Enjoying Merry Christmas, yet thinking of New Year. Some friends of mine walked up to me and broadmindedly expressed Their thanks to all our guardians all of whom had stood the test.

They told of our chief magistrate who'd seen us safely policed. And praises gave to Santa Claus who our kiddles fully feasted. Of the Chief of Police, our Councillors, all wise men of this west, God bless you all our fathers, you freely gave your best.

They spoke of all our roses dear returned from No Man's Land. Their motherly caresses, the cunning of their hand. And their voices turned to melody when this they tried to tell: "Thank God for all our nurses, they've moulded Heaven from Hell."

And then they sang another song to each and every one. Of our doctors who this holiday we'd kept upon the run. They would not go with us below, their's was the upper deck. They staunchly stuck to duty and saved our ship from wreck.

Said a Scotchman sitting close beside, apparently quite witty: "We've Irish and English here and Scotchmen in our city. The English and the Irish played hell on Christmas Eve: Just wait till New Year's Day comes round, we've something up our sleeve."

I admitted that all stores in town their stocks we had depleted. His ambitions at the vendors we also had defeated. To church and child, to halt and blind, we also freely gave, What more can any Scotchman do-"then watched his face grow grave."

Then pointing to ten nickles said, "This is our big Jack pot, Tomorrow all the city will help us spend the lot."

I failed to mention Taffy, but him I ve not forgot, No better class Canadian in this city have we got. He's just packed full of sunshine, never failed me yet. In spite of all our dry days here, he's always kept me wet.

The mission boat Thomas Crosby called at all the ports around the Inlet and took everyone to Queen Charlotte City and back again, the result being that there was not standing room in the church when the concert opened.

The program included a cantata and there was also a Christmas tree. There are thirty pupils at the Queer Charlotte City school.
