Masonic Order Conducts Graveside Rites

A large gathering of friends crowded into First Presbyterian Church Sunday to attend last rites for Thomas McMeekin, pioneer citizen and former alderman, who died in hospital here last Thursday.

Mr. McMeekin arrived in Prince Rupert in 1909 and worked in one of the first grocery stores of the city. In 1927 he founded the wholesale produce company bearing his name.

Reverend Dr. E. A. Wright conducted services in the church and members of the Masonic Lodge conducted the graveside ceremony.

Active pallbearers were Mr. James Simpson, L. C. Eby, George Scott, George Abbott, E. J. Smith and John McLeod.

Honorary pallbearers were Mr. George Nickerson, Thomas Beatty, Fred Hardy, Bill Rance, K. Hallberg and Hugh Killan.

TO COACH SWISS

KIMBERLEY, B.C. (CP)—Frank Sullivan has left for Zurich to coach Swiss hockey teams this winter. A standout centre with Kimberley Dynamieters, he has been named several times as most valuable player in the Kootenay Hockey League.

Shortage of Medical Aid

none the worse for the ducking, changed his raiment and carried on without even commenting very much on his near call.

If Parpe City, B.C., had ever come into being, it would have been on the shores of what seems to the newcomer to be a great lake. Here the waters of the Parsnip, the Manson, Omineca and Finlay join to make the mighty Peace River. The land is fairly flat, in places very swampy. The various waterways, in their various courses, have created islands, inlets, peninsulas and accompanying bays, inlets and backwaters around Finlay Forks. Here the valley is very wide and here, on the higher ground, are thousands of acres of land which some day may make homes for settlers.

OFFICIAL LAND FIGURES

In my appeal to the Royal Commission on Transportation at Ottawa, I submitted a brief setting out the acreage of land on the Finlay and Parsnip Rivers suitable for farming. At that time I had never personally seen these lands. But the figures were from official records from surveys made jointly by the Government of Canada and the United States Government.

Here are the figures as copied from "The New Northwest," official publication of the North Pacific Planning Project, of which Charles Camell, C.M.G., L.D., F.R.S.C., was the Canadian director:

At "Shorty" Webster's trading post on the Enginika River, a dappled grey mare, four years old, grazed on the natural grasses thereabouts. The beast had never seen oats. She looked like a circus animal, so sleek and round and full of life was she.

Navy Cruiser Makes Trip To Argentine

OTTAWA (CP)—The cruiser Ontario, on a cruise around the South American continent, is currently paying a six-day courtesy visit to Buenos Aires, the first Canadian warship to visit the Argentine capital.

The navy said the Ontario, under command of Capt. Ernest F. Tisdall of Duncan, B.C., is due back at her home base at Esquimalt, B.C., Dec. 16.

She sailed from Esquimalt Sept. 8 on her training and goodwill cruise and has already visited San Diego, Calif., Balboa, Canal Zone, Valparaiso, Chile and the Falkland Islands.

From Buenos Aires she will go to Montevideo, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Trinidad, British West Indies, La Guaira, Venezuela and Cateagena, Colombia.

She will go through the Panama Canal Dec. 2 and will call in at Long Beach on her way home.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Your First Response To Bid Of Partner All-Important

"You bridge writers don't give the whole story on the question of responding to partner's opening bid of one in a suit," complained Mrs. Keen. "You say to respond with a king and a couple of queens, or even a little less, but you don't make it clear WHAT to respond."

Today's deal is another bad result suffered by Mrs. Keen in a party bridge session. The final contract of three clubs doubled was set two tricks for a 500 point penalty. East opened the nine of diamonds and West was good enough to duck to preserve communication with her hand.

As soon as East regained the lead, she led her last diamond and ruffed the diamond return with the deuce of clubs. Thus, the defenders won four club tricks, a diamond and a heart.

Actually, there was no excuse for getting this high on the hand. North had plenty to respond. But not enough to respond at the two range. A two-over-one response indicates a pretty good hand—at least two honor tricks—and North was not close to that mark.

North's proper response was one no-trump and Mrs. Keen would have passed that bid. All most surely one no-trump would have been made. Or, more likely, East would have doubled for a takeout over the one no-trump call. At worst, East-West would have made a small part-score. And if they got too frisky, they might even have bid the hand overboard and Mrs. Keen would have received the penalty points.

Note that the holding of a six-card suit is no bar to responding with one no-trump. Unless your partner can take strong action over that call, it is extremely improbable that you will miss a game at clubs—or anywhere, for that matter. Remember, it is a good thing to tell your partner about your distribution—but only when you can afford to do so. If your first response promises more strength than you actually have, you are almost sure to land in trouble.
