Oliver Railway Scheme is Well Received at Vancouver but in Victoria is Looked on as Club

VANCOUVER, Jan. 18.—Premier Oliver's scheme for the creation of a third Canadian railway system connecting Vancouver with the prairies and including in its scope the P.G.E. and the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway now operated by the C.P.R. under lease from the Alberta government, is being much discussed here. It appeals strongly to Vancouver people as tending to centre the business of the Peace River country at this port, something that all Vancouver people have been aiming at since the opening of the Peace was first mooted. Summarized the scheme is as follows:

Creation of a great west coast railway system by amalgamation of the P.G.E. and the E.D. & B.C. Railways, and extension of both, by means of which the vast Peace River region would be afforded a short-line outlet to the sea; industrialization of the Peace River Canyon, by means of a dam and bridge across the Peace; establishment of a great pulp and paper industry at Findlay Forks, and the settlement of the Northern B.C. and Northern Alberta areas with hundreds of thousands of settlers.

Premier Oliver proposed active co-operation of this province with Alberta and the Federal Government by means of land grants and cash subsidy, and the three to approach the British Government at London, with a plan of colonization and settlement, in return for financial aid in building the road and equipping it. He agreed that the plan was a "forlorn hope," but he maintained that the best engineering advice showed it to be feasible and he maintained that it could be carried out if all concerned co-operated to the fullest extent.

VICTORIA, Jan. 18.—Speaking generally, the people of Victoria do not take seriously the scheme propounded by Premier Oliver for the creation of a third railway system in British Columbia. The impression prevails here that the proposal is made for the purpose of bringing the other two railway systems to time and making them take a more acute interest in the scheme. At present both the C.P.R. and the C.N.R. are holding back and saying the time is not yet ripe for the opening of the Peace River country. In the meantime the province of British Columbia has the P.G.E. on its hands and Premier John Oliver is uneasily nursing the baby and trying to set it on its own feet but so far without success.
