The writer is not familiar with conditions in those districts but believe their method of marketing would have to be changed materially if their wheat is to be pooled. For instance, we handle wheat only on a "per bushel" basis and on a "graded" We could not handle wheat on sample or by ton, as much of your wheat is sold. The growers in any given district would have to arrange some sort of local organization through which they could co-operate in making up car load lots, as we could not undertake to handle their wheat in small ler quantities. This could be done in two ways. They could agree to make car load of bulk wheat and weigh each shipper's portion separately, and advise our office of the number of bushels or pounds which each (continued on page six)

Premier Meighen or the Liberal leader, W. L. Mackenzie King. It is understood that Mr. Meighen summoned the members of the cabinet to the capital, prenably for the purpose of preparing for the government's resignation. In the meantime, unconfirmed and unofficial rumors suggest possible resignation from the leadership of the Conservative party, but on this point it is estimated the Premier will have the offer of several ridings in which he may run, but he has not as yet made up his mind as to the course he may pursue.

The impression is that the Government will soon resign and the Liberals Former Premier King will then
