'Big Bill' Mawhinney Turns to Pro Golf

VANCOUVER (CP)-Rangy Bill | Canadian junior championship Mawhinney, whose style still horrifies the golf puritans, has announced he has turned professional and intends to hit the gold trail this winter.

He thus follows in the footsteps of Stan Leonard, another Vancouverite who made his mark on the American professional circuit after the Second World War.

Mawhinney, the "ugly duckling" of Canadian golf, won his first big match in 1947 when, only 18, he beat Leonard in a city tournament. Leonard at that time had already won the Canadian professional title twice and was to win it again.

In 1948, Mawhinney won the

Hawks Dazzle Fans With 8-Goal Blast

TORONTO -Chicago Black Hawks, in their most dazzling display of scoring power before a home crowd in nine years, Thursday night boosted their first-place lead in the National Hockey League to three points over Montrael Canadiens and Detroit Red Wings.

The Hawks scored four goals within the first 10 minutes of Canadian course. Troubled for game against last-place New York Rangers to coast to an win, while Stanley Cup champions Red Wings snapped their three-game losing streak with a 4-1 win over Boston Bruins at Detroit.

Red Wings victory moved them into second-place tie with Canadiens who with Toronto Maple

In 1950, Big Bill beat Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont., in the final to win the Canadian amateur title at Saskatoon.

Last year, he snot a 63 at Vancouver Shaughnessy to tie a sourse record set by Ken Black of Vancouver, former Canadian amateur champion. With Walt McElroy of Vancouver, 1951 amateur king, he beat U.S. Walker cuppers Frank Stranahan and Scotty Campbell at Bethlehem, Pa.

This year, the 23-year-old bond salesman became the first Canadian to win the Pacific Northwest Gold Association championship and then went to the semi-finals of the U.S. amateur, the best performance in that tournament a Canadian since 1932 when Sandy Somerville of London, Ont., won it all.

A few days later, he helped British Columbia take the Willingdon Cup inter-provincial championship with as gritty a display as has been seen on a days by a lame back, he finally collapsed on the last green and had to be taken to hospital.

Mawhinney has little natural grace, such as stylist McElroy.
