Weekly Excursion to Terrace Suggested.

Following the excursion to Terrace on Sunday last when nearly seven hundred people from this city availed themselves of the opportunity to make the trip, the idea is suggested that a special train might be run weekly to that point and be well patronized. Prince Rupert and Terrace have a good deal in common and, during recent years, the latter point has become quite a summer resort for Prince Rupert people. If there were such a train, during the months of July and August, it would allow local business men to send their families to Terrace for the summer and give them the opportunity of going up and visiting them once a week. It would provide an enjoyable and cheap week-end outing for local people and, so doing, would be good both for Prince Rupert and Terrace. It is said that the railway company could undertake to run such a train if at least 100 people would use it each trip. It might be worth while the company at least trying it.

Political Differences And Not Personal Ones.

With the election date announced and party nominating conventions called all over the Dominion, another federal polling contest is now well under way. Each party will seek advantages over the others and there will be political criticisms and duelling. It is to be hoped, however, that political differences will be regarded only as such and that personal animosities and hard feeling may be avoided. After all, we have to live together and it will be well if our differences are only political, not being allowed to reach the personal point.

Why is United States Unpopular?

The United States has awakened to the fact that it is the most disliked nation in the world, says the Ottawa Citizen. In Europe, America is spoken of in scornful terms if not words of hatred. Open dislike is expressed by persons and the press, and whenever occasion offers, this feeling bursts out in popular demonstration. Witness the parade of war veterans in Paris against American debt settlement terms, and the tirade of the London press when the famous film "The Big Parade" was shown there. In Japan, Mexico, South America, unpopularity of Americans and things American increases.

All this is in painful contrast with the feelings of other nations seven years ago. Then America was seen as the savior of mankind, a knight errant arisen to deliver the nations from the scourge of war. The change has not been due to the failure of the American knight to live up to expectations, although that circumstance adds to the intensity of European feeling now. It has been brought about by a good many agencies, all contributing towards the unreasonable conviction that the United States is a fit object of contempt and abhorrence.

An Englishman who has frequently visited the United States in recent years writing in the New York Times, puts forward a typical British explanation of the dislike for America. It is that whenever an American competes in any contest or games, the "Americans present are wild in their cheers and applause, but they never raise a hand or utter a sound for any other." And no doubt that does explain a lot in England, but in continental countries it will not carry so much weight.

To some extent, the antipathy to Americans can be traced to the envy of United States prosperity. The poor rarely display a spontaneous affection for the rich; indeed, it is often a cordial hostility. And so with nations. To some extent also, Americans are also criticised for their aloofness from suffering Europe, their demands for debt settlement from others who think they sacrificed infinitely more (as they did), their general air of youthful arrogance, national vainglory and cultural crudeness.

In Canada alone can the Americans be said to be among friends. While there still simmered the "no truck with the Yankees" animosity, Canadians do not share the intense repugnance of Europeans. We know our friends to the south are not as bad as they are painted, and, it must be admitted, we share some of their characteristics and ape others. And in this way, Canadians ought to be useful in disabusing hostile minds and in interpreting in a friendly way the real virtues as well as the failings of their neighbors.

Hospital Board Expresses Indignation in Connection With Holding of Convention

Considerable disappointment was expressed at the meeting of the hospital board last night that it had been decided to hold the annual convention of the B.C. Hospitals Association in September at Vancouver instead of in Prince Rupert as was decided at the 1925 convention in Nanaimo. Doubt was expressed as to whether the executive of the association really had power to change the place of venue when it had been decided upon by the full convention. In view of the "breaking of faith" indifference was expressed by members of the board about having anything further to do with the association.

The board was in receipt of a letter from the secretary of the association stating that it had been decided to hold the convention in Vancouver instead of Prince Rupert as, if the meeting were held in Prince Rupert, it would be impossible for some of the delegates to spend the time and money that would be required to attend. The letter stated that it was with regret that the decision had been made to change the meeting place and it was hoped that it would lessen Prince Rupert's interest in the affairs of the association. The letter then proceeded to urge that a delegate be sent from Prince Rupert and outlined a scheme for the pooling of traveling expenses of the delegates, asking the board's opinion on the matter.

Secretary Birch read a letter that he had sent to the association in reply. The letter expressed the disappointment felt locally that the convention was not to be held here and that it was felt a mistake had been made in changing. Several other conventions, including that of the Union of B.C. Municipalities had in the past been held in Prince Rupert. Delegates from Prince Rupert had been sent to hospital conventions in the south and their time was equally valuable to that of the southern delegates in coming to Prince Rupert. The letter then raised the question as to the power of the executive to change the place of venue which had been decided upon at the delegates in convention.

Ald. Stephens felt that an organization where the executive could over-ride the decision of a convention was not worth belonging to and he would favor resigning altogether from the association. It was just another case of where faith had been broken with Prince Rupert for the benefit of Vancouver.

After some further discussion the matter was laid on the table until a reply is received from the association to Mr. Birch's letter.

ARRANGEMENTS UNDER WAY FOR FLAG DAY

Thursday, July 29, is Day Fixed by Elks Lodge for Annual Event

Next Thursday, July 29, has been set by the local Elks Lodge for its annual Flag Day celebration. There will be the usual features including parade from downtown to the Acropolis Hill grounds, raising of the flag and address, races and sports and dance in the Exhibition Hall in the evening. Rev. Dr. Charles J. Cameron is being invited to give the flag address and, instead of a baseball game, there will be a softball game between the Elks and the Gyro Club.

The general committee in charge of arrangements for the event consists of F. P. Kenny, L. M. Fuller, E. Clapp, K. McQuaig, and Howard Frizzell. The committee in charge of children's sports will consist of W. D. Vance, Fire Chief D. H. McDonald and W. Williscroft while E. Clapp has been appointed to take charge of the free and pay booths from which, as usual, will be distributed candy, ice cream, oranges, etc., free of charge. The committee in charge of the dance in the evening consists of Kenny McQuaig and Howard Frizzell.

If you want to run into something real tough with your motor boat, try the warship.

If you hear the shout "all hands on deck" watch you don't get yours trodden upon.

Why not suggest to Capt. Bridges that he allow his boys to give a hand with their shooting irons in removing the city rock pile on First Avenue?

If you want to see a real boxing match, go aboard the Curlew and watch the navigators boxing the compass.

There's one sure thing about the Curlew boys, they'll have a good time even if shipwrecked on a billiard table.

Watch your step around No 3 gun, someone endeavored to make the foundation fast with chewing gum.

If the boys don't serve afternoon tea aboard, they serve lots of civility in showing one around the trouble fixer.

Now's the time we wish the Seal Cove navy would start something around Cow Bay. The Lion's cubs would then have to toss for sides.

Did you ever hear a sailor play on a hornpipe?

There is no bottled port on the port side of a warship.

Dollars to collar studs there are no hijackers in northern waters these days.

Local motor boat owners are respectfully requested not to scratch the sides of the Curlew.

If cleanliness is next to Godliness, the Curlew is a near tenant.

Ten Years Ago
in Prince Rupert

July 22, 1916

A movement is on foot in the United States congress to prevent the movement of American halibut through a Canadian port. The passage of such a measure would mean the discontinuation of the present fish shipments through Prince Rupert.

F. H. Cunningham, chief inspector of fisheries for British Columbia, who is at present in this district, has just received the sad intelligence that his son, Sapper Francis Bradley Cunningham, aged 19, was killed in action early this month.

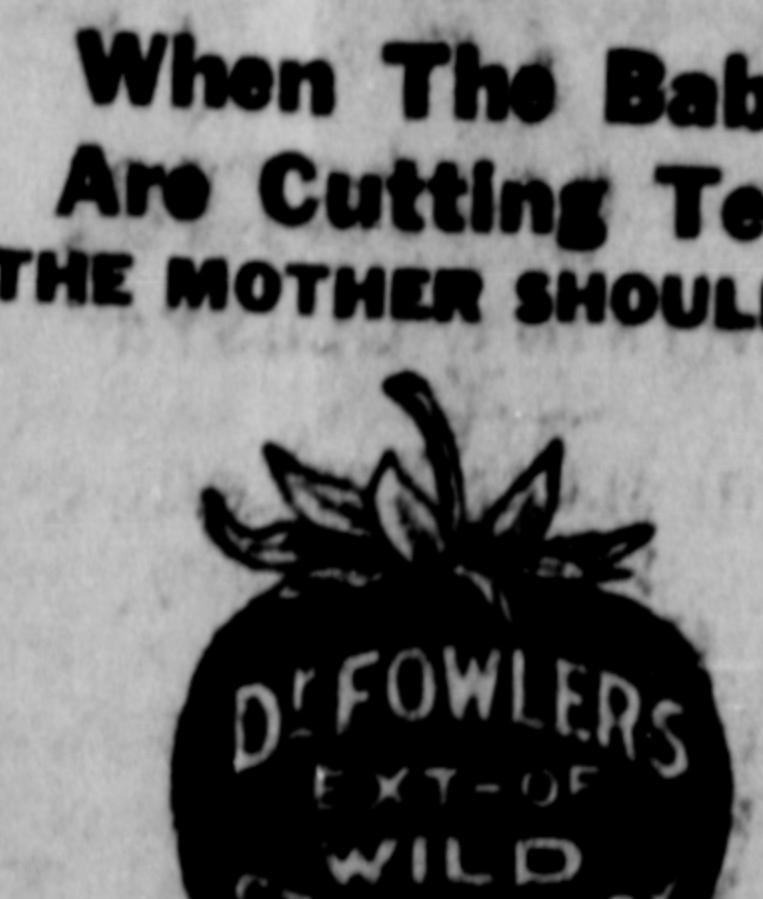

Taking the body south for burial in Vancouver or Detroit, Mrs. B. Conant, widow of the late H. Conant, and a son, Lloyd Conant, sailed on this morning's steamer.

SKIDEGATE

Chief Henry Edenshaw of Massett came into port last week with his large motor boat, the Edenshaw, and was the guest for a day of Mr. and Mrs. A. Russ of Skidgate Mission. Later Mr. Edenshaw went to South Bay cannery where his boat has been chartered for the season,

When The Babies Are Cutting Teeth THE MOTHER SHOULD USE

During baby's teething time, the bowels become loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps, etc., manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, and cankers form in the mouth.

This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life.
