Jutland Anniversary Is Today.

This is the anniversary of the big battle of Jutland, the greatest naval engagement the world has ever seen. It is just ten years ago that the grand fleet of the Germans emerged from shelter into the North Sea and were met by the British with disastrous results to the Germans.

Nothing In South Like Scenery Here.

There is nothing in the south in the way of scenery like that of this district. On the beaten path one does not get the best of it but just a short distance inland and the mountains rise sheer, glaciers appear and the rugged grandeur of the scenes is unexcelled.

Many places boast of their scenery but there are few that have such surprises as are found here.

Should We Borrow In Foreign Market?

The question of whether Canada should borrow in the foreign money market or float bonds at home is one that is often discussed. The argument for floating at home is that the people retain the interest on the money instead of sending it abroad. On the other side it is stated that if local people are urged to put their money into bonds, there is none left for investment in local industries or in development of businesses to keep pace with the growth of population. Extremes on either side would probably prove injurious to the country.

No Pilot Is Needed For Port.

The captain of the big tramp steamer Monarch came in here without a pilot last week and he says that one is not needed when a person has once been in the harbor. The course is so plain and without bad currents or tides that anyone can bring a ship in or take it out without difficulty. That should be worth a lot to the port and should save a lot of money for the vessels that come here.

National Vessels Beginning To Pay.

The vessels of the Canadian Goverment Merchant Marine are paying their way. Operating costs were more than cleared during the first five months of this year whereas for a similar period last year there was a loss of over half a million dollars. Sir Henry Thornton, who told the legislators about this last week also said he expected further improvement. Very soon the system should begin to make payments toward the interest on capital cost.

The value to the country of the merchant ships is very great. Before Canada had those vessels she was often unable to secure tonnage to carry her products to world ports. Ships had to be engaged at San Francisco for this coast and the men on the spot got the first chance of the bottoms. Now there is almost always tonnage available and regular services are given on several routes.

The next route for a regular service should be between Prince Rupert and the Orient with possible calls at Vladivostok.

New Police Force Is Taking Charge.

Tomorrow the new provincial police force is taking charge of the city and the officers are already here. They will doubtless receive the co-operation of citizens in their arduous work. It is not expected that the city will become perfect all at once, but it is expected that the law will be enforced here. If the laws are wrong, let us have them abrogated, but if they are right, let us enforce them. There should be no option on the part of the police as to which laws should be enforced or which evaded. It is unfair to those who keep the laws.

POLICE CHANGE IS EFFECTIVE

After Tonight Upholding of Law and Order Here Will be In Provincial Police Hands

After tonight the duty of upholding law and order in the city of Prince Rupert will be in the hands of the provincial police under the recent agreement whereby the policing of the city was transferred from the municipal to provincial authorities. The city detachment of the provincial police, as already announced, will consist of Sergeant James P. M. Hannah, chief constable, and Constables R. MacKinlay, J. Anderson, Fred Markland, Chas Kench and J. M. Bella, all of whom have now reached the city.

With the passing of the city police force goes Chief W. H. Vickers who, having served in that capacity for fifteen years and three months or ever since the city was incorporated with the exception of a very few months, holds the long record for service with the municipality Sergeant Bailey has been with the force fourteen years; Sergeant McGlinchy, ten years, and Constable Alex Macdonald over ten years during which time he spent some years on overseas service. Constables Crate and Potterton, the other members of the city police force, are of more recent appointment.

It is understood that arrangements have been made to absorb all the six members of the retiring city force. The four senior members, it is expected, will be transferred to southern posts while Constable Potterton has been recommended for a post at Stewart. Constable Crate has already declined the offer of a post at Telegraph Creek.

SEAL COVE PUPILS ENJOYABLE PICNIC

Large Party Taken to Shawatlans Lake as Guests of the City Engineer

In spite of the inclement weather on Saturday, the senior pupils of Seal Cove school had a wonderful time at their picnic when they were the guests of the city engineer, who went across to Shawatlans on departmental business in the Oh Baby and took the young folks with him.

Miss Ruth Stewart, principal of the school was in charge of the party, which numbered 39 in all and she was ably assisted by four ladies, Mesdames Vierick, Gomez, Strand and Kilpatrick. They left the wharf at Seal Cove soon after ten o'clock and it was five when they returned.

Lunch was served by the ladies and ice cream also was provided in abundance and everyone enjoyed the party to the limit.

"Does yoh take this woman foh yoh lawf'lly wedded wife?" inquired the Negro parson.

The little man looked at the enormous woman who stood threateningly at his side.

"Ah takes nuthin'," he answered dully. "Ah's bein' tooked."

YEAR OF UNION UP FOR REVIEW

United Church of Canada to Sit in General Council on June 10 at Montreal

MONTREAL, May 31.— One year of union finds the United Church of Canada looking toward the place where the duties of a constitutional convention as well as of a deliberate assembly await 454 Commissioners to her General Council. Sederunts will be held in the American Church of Montreal, an institution known for generations as "the most Canadian Church in Canada," the place of worship for a succession of the nation's honored builders and dreamers. In addition to the former American Presbyterian Church, the facilities of neighboring Emmanuel Congregational Church and of spacious St. James' Methodist Church are being made ready for special uses.

The time is June 10, the first anniversary of the day on which the representatives of three Churches — Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational — met to realize their union and to celebrate its consummation; to subscribe to its basis and with prayer and prophecy hallow the deed; to receive the acclaim of the sister Churches of many British lands, and, as the first corporate act, partake of the Holy Communion.

Face New Tasks

This time the summons is to make survey of the first year of united life and to draw up forms within which the immense and potent organism may continue to function. For these onerous tasks the election of ex-Moderators of Assemblies and Synods, Conferences and Unions, has been effected by an intensely interested constituency, which recently assembled in 11 electoral colleges throughout Canada and in Newfoundland.

BOBOLINK MOVED TO SKEENA RIVER

Arrival from Naas Yesterday and Reports Fishing Good Last Week: Hospital Equipment.

The snag scow Bobolink, Captain J. D. Watson, after spending five weeks clearing logs and snags from the fishing grounds at the mouth of the Naas River, returned here yesterday and will now spend the summer on similar work up the Skeena River.

Captain Watson reports that the weather has been very bad on the Naas this year. Fishing has been poor until last week when it picked up. From 75 to 80 boats are fishing for spring salmon in the Naas now and three canneries, Mill Bay, Naas Harbor and Arrandale are canning the fish. None are using the mild curing process.

The Bobolink brought from Port Simpson the equipment for the opening of the United Church hospital at Port Essington. Dr. Sager and some of the nurses came in on the Lilooet and the others on the Bobolink.
