Prince Albert To Have A Contest.

It has been suggested that the Conservatives all the time knew there was going to be a contest in Prince Albert and that they took all the credit for allowing the Premier to go in by acclamation while quietly acquiescing in the nomination of an Independent. This is hardly fair to the Conservatives.

There is rather too much of a tendency to believe anything bad of the enemy. The old time Tory cannot see that anything Liberal is ever any good and so the Liberal looks upon the Tory. Sometimes this idea is carried even into social and business life.

Let us rather take it for granted that the Conservatives were big hearted and that they courteously stepped aside to allow Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King to get the seat and that now they are double crossed just as much as are the Liberals of Prince Albert. Possibly even some of the Conservatives of that district will be found on the stump, asking that the Premier be elected. Let us at any rate wait and see what happens before passing judgment.

Game Preservation In This Province.

The Daily Star of Vancouver outlines very plainly how the case stands for the preservation of game under the new regulations. It says:

That large section of the public which is not interested in game preservation in this province has no conception of the cross-currents of opinion and the difficulties which face the department of the provincial government which deals with this matter. Bearing this in mind, the government is to be congratulated upon the scheme, just announced, which the Attorney-General's department has formulated to deal with this important natural asset. That this scheme will not meet with criticism, or that it will please everyone, is inconceivable. At the same time it is a comprehensive attempt to meet a problem which, by reason of the configuration and sparsely settled nature of the province, presents unusual difficulties.

Briefly, it is proposed to divide the province into game districts corresponding to the five police areas and to station in each district a game warden who will direct the work of the other game wardens in that district. All these wardens will be under Chief Game Inspector Montague Ferber, but the whole administration will have as its head Col. McMullan, who is in charge of the provincial police, and the provincial police will be utilized to assist in the game preservation.

Conflicting Views On This Subject.

British Columbia is one of the few last great game preserves on the continent and it is argued by enthusiastic game preservationists that a greatly increased expenditure is justified in maintaining this preserve as a very important asset. Some indeed, would shut their eyes to many other activities and make of the province little but a great game preserve. These enthusiasts would like to see a Game Commission with supreme powers and entirely separate from the provincial police. They argue that the police are not trained to this work and that their association with it is detrimental to the efficient working of the game laws.

There are, however, two arguments against this point of view. In the first place the new arrangement will prevent the possibility of a Game Preservation Commission over-preserving game at the expense of farming and other provincial activities, and, in the second, though the head of the provincial police—a man of high reputation—will be the final authority, the individual members of the force will only act as supplementary to the official game wardens, while their employment in this additional capacity will preclude the expenditure of a large sum of money upon a numerous staff of wardens, which would otherwise be necessary in patrolling so extensive and difficult an area.

The government has listened to both sides and has taken a middle course. The success or failure of the scheme will largely depend upon the personality and ability of Chief Game Inspector Montague Ferber and, as he was appointed by the government as the nominee of the various game organizations of the province, the game preservationists may be said to have been given a very square deal.

FRED GILHULY IS FAREWELLED

Members of Elks Lodge Pay Tribute to Departing Member and Make Presentation

Under the auspices of Prince Rupert Lodge No. 46, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, of which the honored guest was a charter member and for several years an active officer, a farewell banquet was held last evening in the St. Regis Cafe for Fred Gilhuly, who has given up business in the city and will leave for Vancouver this afternoon. Some fifty members of the lodge were in attendance and Exalted Ruler L. Murray Fuller presided.

There were speeches by Ben Self, Walter Vance, Dave Balfour, Bert Morgan, W. E. Williscroft, Frank Dibb and others. Regret was generally expressed at Mr. Gilhuly's departure and many tributes of esteem were paid. Community singing was led by A. Sabourin who also sang a solo. The orchestra consisting of Kenny Rood, George Rorie, Jr., and Miss Irene Morrison donated its services.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Gilhuly on behalf of the lodge of a fountain pen and pencil suitably engraved. Mr. Gilhuly replied suitably.

The affair was in progress from 7 to 9, and closed with musical honors for the guests, the festivities being continued at the Moose smoker.

LADY HEAD OF LIBRARY BOARD

Mrs. Kirkpatrick Chosen Chairman for Year and G. V. Wilkinson Secretary

At the first meeting of the Prince Rupert Public Library Board held last night Mrs. Kirkpatrick was chosen as chairman for the current year. In accepting the position she thanked the members for the honor done her.

Also she welcomed W. J. Greer, the new member of the Board, stating that in the past all business of the Board had been conducted most harmoniously and she expected the same would continue. G. V. Wilkinson was re-elected secretary.

The meeting was called to order by the retiring chairman, H. F. Pullen, who announced that the first business was the appointment of some member to take his place as presiding officer.

The Librarian reported a very busy month. There had been a total circulation of 3,917 volumes of which 2,529 was fiction, 514 non-fiction and 874 juvenile. The daily average was 163.2. There were 82 new borrowers of whom 25 were juvenile. Three had cancelled their cards, leaving a total on the list of 2,181.

During the month 86 books had been added to the shelves, three by gift and 83 by purchase. The number discarded was 22, leaving now on the shelves or in circulation 4,725 volumes.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick appointed a book committee for the year composed of H. F. Pullen, Rev. G. G. Hacker and F. J. Fuller.

Owing to the change in the time of meeting of the city council it was decided to hold regular meetings of the Library Board the first Monday of each month at 9 o'clock.

CORNER CLUB HEARS SHAKESPEARE RECITAL

Rev. Dr. Cameron Entertained Members Last Evening at Regular Meeting in Church Parlors

The Corner Club at its regular meeting in the Parlors of the Baptist Church last evening listened with great pleasure to a most delightful lecture and recitation Shakespeare's immortal play Hamlet by Dr. Cameron who is filling the pulpit at First Presbyterian Church. The story of the play was explained and the rendition of some of the parts proved most instructive.

In addition to the lecture there was a piano duet by Misses Aletta McKinley and Olive Gordon. Refreshments were served and a pleasant half hour spent

This Lassie Has Her Colds "Rubbed Away"

The mother of this attractive little girl, Mrs. E. E. Emmans of 215 Seventh Ave., N. E., Portage La Prairie, Man., is one of the many Canadian mothers who are enthusiastic about the vaporizing salve, Vicks Vaporub, for treating children's colds. Mrs. Emmans writes: "My little girl had a cold at night pretty badly and Vicks did her a lot of good. I have also used it with very satisfactory results for head and chest colds."

Vicks is just "rubbed on" for sore throat, tonsils, bronchitis, croup, or deep chest colds. When so applied, Vicks has a double direct action: internally medicated vapors are inhaled while, at the same time, externally, it is absorbed through and stimulates the skin,

Neglected Coughs

Often lead to serious trouble—Are quickly relieved by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Many people regard a cold as a simple incident. But Coughs and Colds when neglected lead on to pneumonia and consumption—the most dreaded diseases common to this Northern temperature. Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is well-known as a most effective treatment for coughs, colds, bronchitis, croup and asthma. For many years it has held its place in the homes of Canada as absolutely dependable and was never so popular as it is today.

Composed of simple and yet powerfully effective ingredients it is suitable for children and adults alike and is found constantly in most homes for use in case of emergency. Prompt treatment is half the battle when fighting colds.
