PARTY NEWSPAPERS

It is suggested that the Conservatives at their convention next month will have before them a suggestion to establish a chain of party newspapers, either by buying out papers already established or by starting others. Some Conservative papers have objected already to the move and have objected to their being classed as party papers.

The curious thing is that party papers do not seem to be effective in winning elections. The only two places in British Columbia where they have strong party daily papers which monopolize the field is at Nelson and New Westminster and both constituencies were won by Liberals at the last elections held there. Both the Nelson News and the New Westminster Columbian are party papers as much as any papers could possibly be and yet they were unable to influence the electorate sufficiently to retain the seats for the party they supported.

As a matter of fact people are very apt to vote the opposite way from what party newspaper advise, largely because they know that the advice is not given as the result of an independent opinion and also because of the innate mulishness of the race which refuses to be driven or herded in a direction it does not want to go.

Party newspapers are a doubtful advantage and they are a doubtful benefit to the country.

A really great man is one who does not need the aid of a press agent.

EXHIBITION RESULTS

The fair this year is now a thing of the past. All acknowledge it was a success, especially in regard to finances. It must be remembered, however, that this was due to a great extent to the splendid weather prevailing during the two days of the stampede. In making plans for the future it must not be thought that the record of this season can be duplicated. A stampede will no longer be a novelty.

What would be a novelty if it could be arranged would be some pony racing. If it is necessary to give any winter relief this year, some work might be done on a short track at the grounds so that the ponies might have a place to run. This would be a great drawing card, probably the best that could be planned. It is useless to expect as good results a second year from a repetition of this. With one or two rodeo stunts and half a dozen good races, the whole city should be attracted to the hill.

Everything comes to those who weight. They roll in the fat of the land.

RACE SUICIDE

The specter of "race suicide" has crept across the English Channel to haunt British social statisticians.

The English and Welsh birth rate for 1926, again has shown a decline, following the descending curve which has obtained since 1920, according to figures published by the Registrar-General. The rate for the calendar year was 17.8 per 100,000 of population.

Against this, the official report shows that the death rate of infants less than a year old was the lowest on record. Scotland experienced a higher birth rate as well as a higher infant death rate than England and Wales.

The 1926 birth rate tied that of 1917 and was only higher than the 1918 birth rate of 17.7, the lowest on record for England and Wales. In France, where the low birth rate has for years presented what is regarded as a grave national problem, the proportion of 1926 was 18.8c for each 100,000.

Cancer, heart disease, and tuberculosis of the respiratory system led the list as causes of death in England and Wales.

Women, the registrar's report indicate, were far more agile in dodging motor vehicles and in avoiding total accidents generally than were men. The women also who committed suicide were less than half those of the other six who met death by their own hands. The suicide figures were: Males 3,099, females 1,350. Accidental deaths: Males 9,531, females 4,274.

NEW HAZELTON MAY HAVE SAWMILL SOON

A man was around town a few days last week looking into the possibilities of establishing a sawmill at this point, says the Okanagan Herald. He looked over the timber and the available sites for a mill. He has found what he wants and it is reported that he is now arranging for the shipping of the machinery into New Hazelton. The timber to be cut extends along the foot and lower reaches of Rocher de Boule Mountain. There is a supply to last quite a few years and it is proposed to erect a mill with a capacity of 20,000 feet per day. It is expected to have the plant operating this fall.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

SEPTEMBER 12, 1917.
J. J. Tynan, manager of the Union Iron Works, of San Francisco, writes E. H. Mortimer, secretary of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade, that it will be impossible for his company to use the local dry dock for building ships.

Tom Birch of Prince George, who went overseas with the first Prince Rupert contingent under Col. C. W. Peck, returned to the city this morning. He saw much service in France, was wounded and won a medal for valorous service.

Jack Keefe received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of his father, John Keefe, Elma, Iowa. Deceased had reached the advanced age of eighty years.

C. G. Strombeck, well known Alice Arm mining man, arrived on the Prince Charles Saturday night from a business trip to Vancouver and continued north on the Catalis last night.

Man in the Moon

THE Gyros have been at it again. This time it's a baseball match.

I SAW the baseball match
And it was sure a hummer—
Best of all the games
I've seen this summer.

I HOPE it was not a local traveller they tell about who when sending a telegram to his girl put it down in his expense book as chicken wire.

THE natives like to be married in Prince Rupert because the residents here do not seem to mind the noise.

Hoty: I haven't a decent frock to wear to the party tonight.
Totsy: Then why not wear that indecent one you had on last night.

Barber: "Your head is badly in need of a shampoo, sir."

Tailor (in the barber's chair): "Yes; and your clothes are decidedly shabby, but I don't nag you about it."

In The Letter Box

APPRECIATION OF DRILL TEAM.

Editor, Daily News.

Friday night at the Exhibition for the second time I had the pleasure of seeing the wonderful performance of the Prince Rupert Girls' Drill Team. It was indeed a remarkable exhibition of physical drills and tableaux. The tableaux being performed with such exact precision and quickness was something well worth seeing.

The uniforms added greatly to the performance. They consisted of a heavy white sleeveless sweater, blue shorts with the P.R.D.T. monogrammed on the left leg, and short blue socks. They were indeed a pretty picture to behold and I wouldn't have missed it for anything.

One thing which surprised me was the lack of the public's support. Very few in attendance helped the Girls' cause. Any small donation in the hat would have helped a great deal. In order to get their new equipment. From a chat I had with the trainers, Doug Frizzell and Alex. Mitchell I learned that the next exhibition given by the girls would in all probability be club swinging.

In conclusion I may say that the citizens should give these girls the support that they need. Their show is worth putting on in larger cities and I hope that I will meet these two boys with their troupe in my home town, namely, Vancouver.

Yours truly,
R. A. BRUMEL.

MORE SEAL SKINS TAKEN THIS SEASON THAN LAST

(Juneau Empire)
The seal taken at Pribilof Islands this year exceeded that of last year by nearly 3,000. The figures are, for 1926, 21,303 and for 1927, 24,178. There were more taken off the Alaska coast by Indian pelagic sealing this year but not so many off the Washington and British Columbia coasts. The seal herd has shown another large increase over the preceding year.

The four-party treaty which provides for the management of the seal herd by the United States and division of the profits—55 per cent to the United States and 15 per cent each to Great Britain, Japan and Russia—is still in effect, and will remain so until one of the parties serve notice of its termination. No such notice has been served, and the indications are that none will be served for sometime, if ever.

The value of the seal-skins taken this year, in the raw, at prevailing prices was about $300,000. The number taken was restricted because of the low price. The herd is large enough to permit the taking of two or more times as many as were killed without lessening the number of young each year.

ALTERATIONS NOW IN C.P.R. COAST SERVICE
