SIGNIFICANT TEST OF PARTY STRENGTH.

The division on the budget at Ottawa early yesterday morning that it would probably be wise to have was a significant test of party strength. It showed that, even in a this year. pinch, the Liberal government can muster a majority of 23 over any | The meeting was enthusiastic with possible opposition. It has been proven that the Liberals have a splendid working LIBRARY BOARD HAS majority such as Premier King had wished during his first five years as Premier. Now with a clearly expressed mandate from the people of Canada and a good record of achievement already behind it, the Liberal government looks like a permanent thing for a good Routine Business up Last Night-Remany years to come in Canada.

TARIFF WAS ISSUE IN 1927 BUDGET.

Some of the eastern papers described it this year as a Conser-ing the chair. Members present were vative budget from a Liberal government. That was because it pro Ald. M. M. Stephens, James Black and videl for no tariff reductions. Tariff entered into the budget even Rev. G. G. Hacker as well as the though the document did not provide for an changes. In fact tariff librarian. was responsible for the only budget amendment that was made- The report of the librarian showed namely that propounded by the United Farmers of Alberta. Liberals and Conservatives joined in turning that down but, as was not generally anticipated, the Conservatives voted against the budget as a whole. In spite of that they had no suggestions to offer in the form of amendments.

OPPORTUNITY FOR LOCAL MEMBER'S INDEPENDENCE.

The Conservative even admitted that there was much virtue in the budget. Therefore, having nothing themselves to offer, it would have seemed the proper thing for them to support it. Nothing but politics, their chronic disposition to oppose, apparently guided them in voting as they did. In that connection it is noticeable expressed hope that some individual or that the local member, like all the other Conservatives, voted against society would donate a set, as there the measure. Coming from a constituency that has everything to were no funds at the present for regain from low tariff and the Liberal policies, Mr. Brady missed an placement. excellent opportunity to assert his independence. He proved him- Business of the meeting was otherself, however, a Conservative or bust.

HECTIC SESSION OF LEGISLATURE CLOSING.

It is gratifying to see that a hectic session of the provincial legislature is nearing its close. The people, if we judge aright, are becoming sick of such abominable proceedings as have featured the Victoria session this year. They have had their surfeit of abuseand scandal withal nothing constructive forthcoming from a bitter and envious opposition. There are rumors of an election before another session is called. Many people are inclined to the desire that there should be an election so the air may be cleared and This meeting is open to the public. The something better produced next year than there was at this last meeting.

TRAGIC ACCIDENT ON VANCOUVER ISLAND.

The terrible tragedy at Duncan yesterday wherein a little girl lost her life in the explosion of a dynamite cap again points to the necessity of parents ever being on the look-out for just such unfortunate happenings. There is an old saying that the unexpected always happens. If people are anticipating such things as these and the church will be glad to welcome. are always guarding against them they will be expected and will probably never occur.

Mr. Mann, in accepting the office of resident, made a humorous speech on colitical matters and expressed the conviction that it would not be long until Prince Rupert had a Conservative member at Victoria as well as at Ottawa. Reference was made to the publicity that the city and district were receiving at the hands of J. C. Brady, M.P., who has been taking an active part in the discussion at Ottawa.
