Gives Up Alaska

Senior Hoop League Goes

Prince Rupert Basketball Association will not form an international league with Ketchikan and Metlakatla (Alaska), because the northern teams don't get started on time.

This was decided at a meeting in the Civic Centre last night at which a large number of players were present.

The association also decided to revert from a senior "A" league to Senior "B" after Don Forward, local representative of the B.C. Amateur Basketball Association, announced that this city had been chosen the site of the provincial senior "B" playoffs this season.

Delegates further decided that the leading team in the threeteam league will represent the city when playoff time arrives and that the coach of the winning squad will be able to select reinforcements from the other

Under this system, there is more incentive to win said association president Art Murray, who added that further discussion on the 1952-53 league set-up will be made in a round table conference over the radio here probably later this week.

Last year there were five teams in the league, but due to a shortage of playermaterial, the association decided to reduce the number to three with games being played every Tuesday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the Civic Centre. Play begins Nov. 15 and continues through to March.

There will be two girls teams, one from Booth Memorial High School and the other a commercial squad, and they will play every two weeks.

Association officials, in deciding to floor only three senior squads, said the city cannot produce talent necessary for larger league and still maintain a calibre of play that will be pleasing to the customers.

Shortening the season and choosing the top team to represent the city should also do IT'S SIMPLE much to sustain early season
