DOROTHY IN AFTER TRIP

First Voyage of International Fisheries Commission Scientists Very Successful One

Completing its first trip on research work to the halibut grounds for the International Fisheries Commission, the big schooner Dorothy, owned and skippered by Capt. Ole Hvatum, reached port last night at 8.30 after an absence of three weeks. According to F. Heward Bell, who headed the party of six scientists aboard the Dorothy, the trip was a most successful one, the best of weather prevailing throughout. The Portlock banks were visited and 1200 fish were caught, tagged and returned to the water. The scientists were also successful in collecting a large amount of data in regard to the age and rate of growth of the halibut as well as in examining a large number of fish for the racial phase of the investigation.

The Dorothy brought in 30,000 pounds of fish, which were mutilated or otherwise unfit for tagging, and the fare was put on the board at the Fish Exchange this morning. This fish was caught during the open season. Mr. Bell explains that halibut caught in the course of investigations during the close season being unfit for return to the water will be sold in a similar manner to last year. The trips will be haled by raido giving the number of large, medium and chicken halibut. The fish will be sold for freezing only and the various fish handling ports on the coast will be given equal chances of bidding on the trips, the bids to be handled through the department of marine and fisheries.

The Dorothy will return to the halibut banks, probably tomorrow, and it is expected she will be back again with another catch in about three weeks' time. On the completion of this next trip, the Dorothy will proceed south to Seattle for the Christmas season. Detailed study of the spawning grounds will be engaged in after the first of the year when Dr. Will F. Thompson, director of investigations, H. A. Dunlop, one of his assistants, and Norman Freeman, local representative of the commission, will agso go out on the Dorothey.

On board the Dorothy this past trip were Capt. Ole Hvatum and sixteen men including nine fishermen and six scientists—F. Heward Bell, R. V. Butt, William Herrington, E. Pegler, Olof Ericksen and Frank Grantz—the last mentioned being wireless operator.

AVERAGE MAN OF U.S. DISCOVERED

Proprietor of Clothing Store Has no Extremes in His Character

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The proprietor of a one-man clothing store in Fort Madison, Iowa, has been chosen as the "average man" of the United States by William S. Dutton, writing in the American Magazine.

Neither a leader nor a laggard in the affairs of his town, Roy L. Gray, the "average" nominee, has an average education, lives in an average home on an average street, drives an average car and is the head of a family of four which is the average used by the Censor Bureau.

He is a church member who does not attend services regularly. His tastes in radio music run from current jazz to light classical compositions, and he believes the movies to be not as bad as they are reputed to be. The younger generation does not alarm him. He has an average interest in matters which do not directly affect his home or his business. In fact he is average.

SERVILE SPIRIT IS CAUSED BY TIPPING

Determined Campaign Against it as it Prevents Paying of Living Wage

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 21.—Labor organizations of crafts most affected have begun determined campaigns against the public custom of "tipping" individual workers for services rendered, the Labor Department will point out in its forthcoming monthly review of labor conditions.

The publication will comprise a series of reports as to the attitude of organized pullman porters, teamsters and chauffeurs, hotel and restaurant employes and waiters and waitresses on the subject.

All of these craft organizations, the report will say, "feel that tipping systems detract from the independence of labor by instilling a servile spirit" and declare that the custom prevents the establishment of a living wage.
