HUNDRED PERSONS GATHERED LAST NIGHT TO PAY TRIBUTE TO "IMMORTAL MEMORY"

Over one hundred persons gathered last evening in the banquet hall of the Boston Cafe to honor the 168th anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns, Scottish poet and statesman. An excellent banquet had been provided and with an excellent program of music and speeches the evening was one of great pleasure and enjoyment. James Irvine, president of St. Andrew's Society, under whose auspices the event was held, presided and proposed the toast to The King which was fittingly honored and then introduced the various items on a rather full program. Due to illness some of the artists were unable to attend as expected but there were others
