RAILWAY HAD STEADY YEAR

C.N.R. VICE-PRESIDENT REPORTS NO UNUSUAL DEVELOPMENTS BUT SATISFACTORY RESULTS DURING 1926

MONTREAL, Jan. 6.—While the year 1926 has seen little in the way of unusual or sensational developments from the operating end, so far as the Canadian National Railways are concerned, there has been a steady betterment over the system and results as a whole have been satisfactory, stated S. J. Hungerford, vice-president in charge of operation of the National System.

Probably the most spectacular development of the year, Mr. Hungerford stated, was the completion of the branch line which takes the Canadian National into the Rouyn gold mining area. Completion of the Dunblane bridge across the South Saskatchewan River was also important in that it connected important territories on both sides of the stream in southwestern Saskatchewan. Completion of the Hanna-Warden branch of the Canadian National provided an important transportation link and would bring the bituminous coal from the Brazeau field into Southern Saskatchewan over a more direct route and also provided a more direct route for wheat from Southern Saskatchewan to Vancouver via Edmonton. Other lines which have been completed are largely colonization lines which have provided service for districts where such was required for development.

B.C. EXTENSION

The completion of the line from Kamloops to Kelowna in British Columbia is outstanding in that it has taken the Canadian National into every important producing district, and has given vastly improved transportation facilities to that territory. The volume of traffic which has already developed has more than exceeded the company's expectations when the line was built, and the provision of motor ship service from Kelowna to points south has provided good connections for the southern points.

So far as the Hudson Bay Railway is concerned, the Canadian National has acted only as agents of the Federal Government in completing and rehabilitating that line. The steel was formerly as far as Mile 332 from The Pas, and about two-thirds of the work of rehabilitating that portion has been carried out this year as well as a small amount of work on the grade beyond Mile 332. It is the expectation that steel will be laid into Port Nelson by the end of 1927.

Substantial improvements have been made to the line to the Lake St. John Region of Quebec to care for the increasing volume of traffic incidental to the development of the pulp and paper industry and the aluminum plant there.

The Toronto Viaduct, or rather, that portion of the work and undertakings connected therewith devolving upon the Canadian National Railways has been carried on energetically during the past year and substantial progress has been made.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare---should make a habit of reading the ads.

TRANSLATION OF WEMBLEY

MATERIAL FROM SHOW BUILDINGS TURNED INTO GARAGES AND ROAD BEDS

LONDON, Jan. 12.—(By Canadian Press).—Some of the pavilions which were erected for the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley 1924-25, have been turned into factories, laundries, garages, and restaurants all over the country, and great quantities of material have also been obtained from them for housing schemes and road making.

"The Palace of Beauty," A. J. Elvin, the demolition contractor, stated recently "is now lying on one of the new arterial roads; Ceylon is a coach-building factory in London; Nigeria, a garage in Preston; the Gold Coast, a garage in Huddersfield; East Africa, a furniture factory at Letchworth; and Sierra Leone, an Irish restaurant. Palestine will soon be a laundry in Glasgow, and West Indies a factory at New Malden." Mr. Elvin has just signed a contract with James White and the liquidators of the British Empire Exhibition taking over the majority of the remaining buildings for demolition purposes.
