WHY KEEP UP THIS TALK?

There are three things of which Canadian orators should be punished by either fine or imprisonment. One of them is to make the cognomen "Muddy" creek. Near the a reference to "the three thousand mile border without a soldier or a foot of the first falls at the old campcannon." The second is that terrible bore of all proportions of our ing ground we tied our launch, stepped "boundless natural resources." And the third-rapidly becoming off with our blankets and decided to the worst-is that persistent protestation about our "loyalty to the spend a night beneath the trees and Empire and the Throne."

Why on earth should it be necessary to keep eternally pro- gurgling stream and not far distant testing about our loyalty? Englishmen don't do it. They sensibly regard their loyalty as something to be taken for granted, as it should be taken for granted. But let a Canadian get on his feet, be a good change. That is why we set whether he be an alderman or a prime minister, and immediately out for the upper falls with one rod he begins to protest that he isn't a Guy Fawkes.

The practice has got to be an infernal nuisance. It's about as to reach the pool at the foot of the fall appropriate as if men were constantly getting up to protest the vir- and that left us just an hour to get tue of their wives.

With the advancement of a season that, speaking generally, has been favorable for agriculture, there are further reassuring indications of satisfactory business conditions in most sections of the use a fly. Some of these probably represent purchases above the normal level, in anticipation of higher prices which ing up feeding the flies with our good up for this," was the cheering greeting would be expected to follow the rise in quotations for leather, but red blood and returning to camp to of the member of the groucher's club. even allowing for this, and for the fact that the industry as a whole is being operated far below capacity, many of the manufacturers regard the outlook with more confidence than at any time since the and we could see them in the pool. I we think, the wonder is there are not first of the year. The value of construction contracts awarded during the past month amounted to over $50,000,000, including $15,-000,000 for the Windsor-Detroit bridge, but even disregarding the latter, the new contracts were sufficient to bring the total for the past seven months close to that for the corresponding period of 1926, to the line beyond the flies, leaving when building operations were the largest since pre-war days.
