Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

BULKLEY FAIR AT SMITHERS

This Year's Event Promises to be Best Yet. Many attractions to Entertain Visitors

The big event of the season in the upper country is the Bulkley Valley Fair which takes place at Smithers next week on August 24, 25 and 26. For this annual event will be gathered from the surrounding country, from the coast to the mountains and from as far south as the Cariboo a concourse of interested spectators and contributors to all the fun of the Fair.

The main item in the list of attractions is the races, horse-racing, the sport of kings. Entries are assured from Prince George and the Cariboo districts. These horses are fast and should put up some exciting races as the local horses are under hard training.

The Prince Rupert Grotto baseball team will meet the Smithers team in a two-game series and some good ball is expected. The very newest fads and fancies have been secured for the Midway which will be run by the Fair Association with a greater thought for entertainment than for profit. And the exhibition entries are coming in at a rate which assures this year's being the biggest yet held in Smithers.

Special railway fares have been arranged to apply from all points between Prince Rupert and Prince George. Arrangements should be made now to visit the Bulkley Valley Fair this year and meet some more of the other people of this Last West.

BIG SCULLING MATCH COMING

Race Between Australian World Champion and Bert Barry of England

VANCOUVER, Aug. 18.—For the first time since the world championship sculling contests were inaugurated more than 60 years ago, the race will take place on the Pacific coast. The site chosen by Major Goodsell, Australian holder of the title, is a magnificent stretch of water in Burrard Inlet, Vancouver Harbor. It has a "straight" of five miles, varying in width from a quarter of a mile to two miles.

It is considered the best championship course in the world.

The race between Major Goodsell and Bert Berry of Putney, England, the challenger, will take place on September 5. Barry is a nephew of the great Ernest Barry, former world champion, and is himself champion of England.

The course is interrupted by little traffic, for the eastern terminal runs to a dead end near Port Moody, the first terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway. There is a very slight tide, and just enough movement in the prevailing northeasterly breeze to create the ideal ripple on the water. These ripples create cushions of little air ridges that help the scull along better than dead "millpond" water.

Barry is the first challenger to be accepted by Goodsell since he set out a year ago from Australia looking for a match. Major Goodsell's sculling career started after the war, and his first victory of note was in the amateur championship of New South Wales. Then he turned professional and set up a record of five minutes for the mile, which still stands. He challenged Paddon when the New South Wales giant had successfully defended his title twice. In the race Goodsell fell out of his shell into the Parramatta, climbed in again and was only 30 seconds behind Paddon at the finish. When Paddon surrendered the title to McDevitt, Goodsell challenged McDevitt and won easily.

Paddy Hannan, Australasian champion, was first to challenge Goodsell's championship. Goodsell beat him easily on the Parramatta before a quarter of a million people and before the same crowd later beat Paddon. The champion later crossed the Pacific and did some coaching in California, where he married. He rowed in the Catalina rowboat marathon of 34 miles and was second to Hagney, Australian.

SPORT CHAT

Bill Crawford of Stewart was responsible to a large measure for the splendid entertainment tendered the Prince Rupert team upon the recent baseball excursion. The visitors were permitted to inspect points of interest in the Stewart vicinity which it would have been impossible to do without the co-operation of transportation concerns.

Soccer enthusiasts, old and young will be alive to watch the old-timers perform at the Acropolis Hill grounds on Friday evening. They are all men of a calibre who can give the best for the sake of the game. They have all been well schooled in the finer points of the game which should be a fitting prelude to the important game of the following week when a city team will meet a representation from the visiting warship.

Perhaps there has been no more popular spot during the last few weeks than the Gyro Playground at McClymont Park. Every day there are dozens of children there enjoying to their hearts' content the various play apparatus at their disposal. The swimming tank has always a full quota of enthusiasts and would be just as popular with the grown-ups if the facilities were present.

The finals in the series of lacrosse games for the championship of Canada are to be played at Queens Park, New Westminster, Thursday, September 8, and Saturday, September 10, during the provincial Exhibition. Should a replay be necessary it will take place at the same field, Monday, September 12.
