INSANE SPLENDOR AT JAP'S FUNERAL.

The funeral last night of Yoshihito, the dead Japanese emperor, was the most pretentious in the history of the Orient. The obsequies were replete with gorgeous splendor, extravagant and intoxicating, to prove again that an aeroplane can Two and a half million dollars were spent to excite a million people be handled successfully in any temperainto a hysterical besotted mob, trampling each other to death and ture. injury. It was a ceremony remindful of heathen days with superstition-drunk people, worshipping at the shrine of the dead, making HOW MUSICIANS a travestied pageant of the grave.

Even in the most enlightened nations there is still something of the heathen instinct to overdo mourning for the dead. It is very well to lay the wornout frame to rest with care and solemnity but to make the funeral such a display as the Japanese did with their Emperor's body is an elaboration that might sicken or perhaps horrify the more enlightened. Bordering on the absurd are such obsequies to a mad king. His people obtusely celebrated the death of Yoshihito more than they did his life. They spent millions of dollars to stage an insanely elaborate funeral when they might better have given a simple prayer for his soul. Too much of the material goods of this world are vainly wasted on the dead when they might far better and more practically be applied to the help of the living. The money wasted in burying Yoshihito would have kept two hun- has spent forty of his seventy years as tion to their exhibits. HONESTY IN ADVERTISING.

Because the Times-Union newspaper of Rochester, N.Y., refused to publish a certain advertisement from a firm with which it had a contract, the firm sued for damages.

The Times-Union argued that it believed the advertisement to Heink, Caruso, Ysayo, Jean and Belouard "I am a firm believer in all kinds be untrue and misleading. Upon that plea the damage suit dismissed yesterday in the Supreme Court of New York.

Times have changed since newspapers would publish any ad- others; all of them for a time under vertising copy that came into their offices. It was upon the loose Mayer's management and some of them newspaper ethics of this time that the professional prejudice lifted by him from comparative obagainst advertising was founded.

MR. GUTHRIE

NEEDS GLASSES.

At a meeting in Montreal Hon. Hugh Guthrie, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons at Ottawa, said that it was not right for Canada to stand idly by when British troopships were RUM RUNNERS TO on their way to China, and that this country must do something for her own defence and for the defence of the Empire.

Does this mean that Mr. Guthrie has discarded that cardinal principle in the Conservative party's policy which would not sanction the despatch of Canadian troops from these shores until after an election had been held and the instructions of the people obtained? Mr. Meighen enunciated that policy at Hamilton and repeated it in Montreal and in the House of Commons. And it is quite clear that the present Conservative leader supported it, because he said only a few weeks ago that one of the greatest calamities the public life spite of new restrictions imposed on of the Dominion had suffered last year was the retirement from ac- the trade as a result of the inquiry on tive politics of Mr. Meighen. How does he propose to reconcile his this coast of the Royal Customs Comstaunch belief in the platform upon which he stood with his leader mission, rum-runners here expect that during the last election with his declaration in Montreal on Sunday?

There is another point in Mr. Guthrie's speech which will be puzzling to the mind of the average Canadian. What does he mean by defence of the Empire in regard to the situation in China? This is surely the first time anybody has considered it possible to defend the Britannic Commonwealth on Chinese soil. We fear Mr. Guthrie is very short-sighted .-- Victoria Times.

WILKINS WILL

CHART "BLIND SPOT" IN POLAR CRYPT

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 8 .- Seeking the answer to the Arctic's last great riddle, Capt. George H. Wilkins will fly this spring into the "blind spot" of the polar crypt. Sometime in March he will turn the nose of his "flying gas tank" northward from Point Barrow, Alaska, in a seco effort to find out whether land lies under the ice-capped waters in the vast region above the north Alaskan coast The region has been designated the Arctic "blind spot" by explorers, none knows for certain whether its thousands of acres are land or sea.

Byrd and Amundsen have conquered the north pole by air, but their exploits have not removed opportunity for further exploration in that clime, Captain Wilkins believes.

SECOND ATTEMPT

He tried last summer to chart the "blind spot," but adverse conditions pre- eliminate the tendency to gain invented achievement of some of his qbjectives. With the valuable data obtained, he will try again, and even if he is frustrated a second time he expects to make important meteorological and geopraphic observations in the obscure area.

The Wilkins flight is sponsored by a Detroit newspaper, and his ship will be a stock aeroplane of Detroit manufac- lack of co-operation along these lines ture. His "flying gas tank" is so called because it has a carrying capacity of 2,000 pounds, most of which will be gasoline in five tanks. The plane will cruise for twenty hours without re-

BE BUSY AGAIN

NEW RESTRICTIONS MAKE IT HARD-ER BUT DO NOT PUT THEM OUT OF BUSINESS.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 8 .- (By C.P.) -- In the barriers will not be insurmountable and that the shipping of contraband liquor to the United States will soon be on its feet again.

The days of shipping intransitu liquor, or goods under bond, are probably over, however, the Minister of Customs, in a communication to the Collector of Customs for the port of Vancouver, states that hereafter intransitu liquor may not lie in customs bond longer than thirty days before it becomes liable to a bond of double the value of the import duty. This double penalty will be enforced by the cusdepartment when intransitu liquor which has exceeded its thirty-day welcome is entered for export . Interpretation placed here on this latest order is that the exporting of liquor may continue without hindrance with two exceptions-that bonding privileges will not be extended to intransitu shipments for more than thirty days without penalty and that customs collectors must be satisfied that foreign landing certificates are bona

Owners and masters of rum-runners, however, operating out of Vancouver are said to be accepting the new situation with good grace, and while new regulations may prove troublesome, they believe that they will not seriously impede the traffic in liquor between British Columbia and the Coast states.
