MOVE THE CAPITAL TO WINNIPEG

It would be much more convenient to the west if the capital of the Dominion were moved to the centre of the country, possibly to Winnipeg. It is quite impossible to make the people in the East understand that there is a West and that it is a long way off and that it is important. Today we had a Royal Proclamation from Ottawa telling of something which was to take place on May 18. This is not an unusual thing. It is common among business people as well as the government. They cannot realize that there is a far west and that it is of any importance. If the capital were moved from the east, they might have a better appreciation of the far west.

Don't let mosquitoes worry you when there are so many big things in life that are more worthy of attention.

Who won the war? It looks as if it was the people who got to work and made the most of the situation and allowed the others to do the talking. Those are the winners of most wars.

VICTORIA AND EMPIRE DAYS

While July 1 is designed to celebrate more particularly the birthday of the Dominion, May 24 is a festival which draws attention to the Dominion as a part of the British Empire. It was the birthday of the late Queen Victoria during whose reign the British Empire with each part self-governing took form. It is the time in which we remember particularly that we are British and that we have a part to play in the comity of nations.

Canada has risen from the status of a colony to that of a nation and her voice is heard in the councils of the Empire. This country is consulted in all important moves made by the government at London and her opinion has an important bearing on the decisions arrived at.

Beware of popular opinion. The multitude that applauds or boohos today is the same multitude that a few years ago said of the best man who ever lived: "Away with him."

While it seems wonderful that a worm can turn into a butterfly, it must also be remembered that many a man has turned into a blind pig.

LITIGATION REGARDING CANNERIES

Litigation started in Vancouver courts in an attempt to end Federal control of fish canning on this coast is being watched with keen interest by provincial fishery officials as opening up far-reaching possibilities in the administration of the province's fisheries in the future, says Harbor and Shipping. While the Federal Government will fight the case so as to retain control of canning if possible, the Provincial Government will be an interested, although neutral spectator of the argument.

Should canners succeed in ousting Federal officials from their business here, the results would affect the future of the whole fishing business on this coast in several important directions. In the first place, it would apparently necessitate the creation of extensive new provincial machinery to handle the canning business in place of the present Federal machinery. In the second place, the case may well open up the old question of crown jurisdiction over fish once they have been caught.

While you are poking your nose into your neighbor's business your own is likely to take the wings of the morning and fly away.

You may have noticed a dead fish floating down the river. A live one swims up stream.

If you burn the candle at both ends, you'll soon have no candle to burn. But who wants a candle in these days anyway?

BEBE DANIELS CAMPUS FLIRT

FAMOUS STAR IN COLLEGE STORY IS TO BE SEEN HERE AT THE MIDWEEK

Bebe Daniels as Patricia Mansfield, product of wealth and foreign finishing schools, is a snob of the first water in "The Campus Flirt" here for the mid-week showing. Her father believes that by rubbing shoulders with a democratic group of undergraduates, her superficial veneer of falsehood will disappear, revealing the true Patricia. Therefore, we find her going to Colton College for her senior year.

On the train, Pat meets Denis Adams, one of Colton's greatest athletes. Because of a bet with his parents, Denis is "working his way," acting as coach of the girls' track team. The youth introduces Pat to his chum, Charlie Paddock, "world's fastest human."

"High Hats" the Gang

Arrived at Colton, Pat is insulted by the happy-go-lucky classmen who gather to welcome their heroes. Due to her strange code, Paddy "high hats" Denis. The undergraduates immediately dislike the girl.

Through silly efforts to keep her associates in place, even to the extent of "selecting" her own sorority, Pat sinks deeper and deeper into the mire of antagonism. Her only friends seem to be Harriet, Paddy's serious minded room-mate and Knute Knudson, the Swedish janitor.

Trying to escape from Minnie, Knute's pet mouse at the Stadium, Pat passes Paddock like a streak of lightning.

Throwing caution to the winds, Pat joins the "fast set." Because of her ways, she is branded "The Campus Flirt." Realization that she has been a fool finally comes to Pat through Denis and she sets out to vindicate herself which she does in a startling and dramatic manner.

LA BOHEME IS COMING

FAMOUS OPERA STORY WILL BE SHOWN THIS WEEK END AT WESTHOLME

"La Boheme," known and loved where ever opera is sung, is now on the screen!

The tragic story of Mimì, the little seamstress of the Latin Quarter, and her poet lover Rodolphe, comes here at the week end. Lillian Gish, wistful heroine of many famous plays, has one of the crowning roles of her career in Henry Mager's classic, produced on a lavish scale, under the direction of King Vidor.

"La Boheme" is one of the most appealing heart-interest stories in the whole field of the classics. The screen version was not taken from the opera itself, but from the original Henri Murger novel, of which the opera story was one episode.

The supporting cast is notable. John Gilbert plays the leading male role of "Rodolphe," and others in the cast are Roy D'Arcy, Renee Adoree, Karl Dane, Edward Everett Horton, Gino Corrado, Frank Currier, George Hassell, and other well known players.

Actual reproductions of the quaint Quartier Latin of Paris were constructed for the new picture. Miss Gish's first American-made production in some years.

LA BOHEME IS COMING

THE SILENT LOVER STARS MILTON SILLS

"The Silent Lover," First National's newest starring vehicle for Milton Sills, is showing here today.

The story, adapted by Carey Wilson from the European success by Lajos Biro, entitled "The Legionaire," is described as a thrilling one, dealing with the skirmishes between the Foreign Legion units stationed on the edge of the Sahara and the marauding Riff tribesmen, who constantly harry European travellers and residents in those sections.

Sills is cast as a dissolute young diplomat, who loses his honor in Paris, only to regain it—and win the girl he loves—on the burning sands of southern Morocco. Supporting him is a notable cast of screen favorites, including Viola Dana and Nantales Kingston, Montagu Love, Arthur Stone, William V. Mong, Alma Bennett, Claude King, William Humphrey, and others.

SOMEWHERE IN SONORA IS A WESTERN STORY BUT QUITE DIFFERENT

Unlike the average motion picture starring a "cowboy," "Somewhere in Sonora," the First National picture produced by Charles R. Rogers for First National, is not merely a pot-pourri of Indians and men wearing chaps, but is a story of another phase of the conquest of the West. It is based on the construction of railroads from the United States into Mexico and the troubles caused by bandits during their building.

Curiously enough, the bandits in "Somewhere in Sonora" are not the usual mustachioed Mexicans seen in the customary Western production. For

BOY SCOUTS GUESTS ON THE PATRICIAN

The Boy Scouts of the 3rd Prince Rupert Troop numbering 18 under Scoutmaster P. C. Miller were privileged to go over the H.M.C.S. Patrician on Friday evening last, witnessing the exciting finish of the boat races. After inspecting the ship the working of one of the big guns was explained to the boys by an old scout who formerly belonged to the 1st Cowichan Troop. The boys then went in the pilot house where very interesting description of the steering apparatus and compass was given, also an explanation of the workings of the depth charges, torpedoes and diving apparatus was given which was much enjoyed by the boys. A scout concert and camp fire in aid of the funds of the troop will be given on June 1.
