RULES IN CASE BANK ROBBERY

ARKANSAS CASHIER HAVING BEEN HELD UP FOUR TIMES, GIVES HIS ADVICE

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Particularly well fitted by having been held up and robbed in his bank four times under such circumstances, Storm O. Whaley, cashier of the Bank of Sulphur Springs, Sulphur Springs, Arkansas, has drawn up a set of rules for the guidance of his fellow bankers in case of need which are printed in the current issue of the American Bankers' Association Journal. Mr. Whaley describes in detail his various sessions with the bandits, all of which included melodramatic gun flourishing and one of which resulted in murder, and then gives the following directions:

"Out of these four experiences I shall give, in the form of 'Bullet End Epigrams,' a summary of what I have learned.

"Keep cool, hold your hands high and make no motions that might be misunderstood, as the bandit is under an intense nervous strain and might mistake the most innocent action and begin to shoot.

"Talk quietly to the bandits if possible, as it lessens the tension.

"Study their features and compare their faces with some one you know. The noting of a small mole on the cheek of one bandit made his identification absolutely sure for me.

"Keep your note case away from your safe or money drawer during the day. They might think it contains bonds and take it. They usually ask: 'Where are your bonds?' I reply: 'I carry them with my city correspondence.'

"Don't keep pistols where excited customers might seize them. Have them hidden where you can reach them when they leave.

"Carry heavy burglary insurance and keep the smallest possible amount of money in your safe and till.

"I have been locked in my vault so much that I have to wear colored glasses when I go out in the sun, and am thinking about installing a kitchenette in the vault to be sure of regular meals.

"Don't throw the vault door bolts so that the door cannot be locked without running the combination. This is dangerous. They are in a hurry. If they find the door will not close, you leave them nothing to do but to shoot you, knock you unconscious or take you with them.

"I have a phone hidden in my vault. I can tell the operator just what to do.

"The best remedy for bank robbers is the death penalty. When they receive life sentences they only smile. When there is danger of the electric chair, they whine like curs.

"All were young men. Don't watch middle-aged or elderly men. The young man who asks for change and looks around is spotting your help, door and vault door. When they come, keep cool, hold them high, study their faces, obey orders and remember your chance will come later."

HIDE PISTOLS

"Don't keep pistols where excited customers might seize them. Have them hidden where you can reach them when they leave."

NO PAY IN YEAR CHINESE CONSUL

VANCOUVER OFFICIAL IS USED TO IT, HOWEVER, AND IS CARRYING ON

Diplomacy does not always pay, particularly when one's diplomatic mission is forgotten by one's government to the extent that it overlooks the pay cheque for a whole year says the Vancouver Sunday Province. It is two months since any instructions or funds were received from China by the Chinese consular office in Vancouver, and a year since salaries were paid.

Mr. Hung-Hung Loh, who is acting consul in Vancouver, is philosophical over the situation. It is not the first time that salaries have been neglected, but eventually they always arrive. In the meantime, he is content to carry on the office as best he can, without instructions or advice.

HAVE OWN ENVOYS

One of the bones of contention in the present Chinese struggle will be the diplomatic offices in foreign countries, he states. The present consular officers are all appointees of the Peking or Northern Government, which at present has all it can do to control its domestic affairs. In the meantime, the Southern Government, which is eager to be acknowledged by other countries, obtains reports of foreign offices from its own representatives. When the time comes it will be ready to shoulder the foreign diplomatic relations.

Already several consuls to the European countries have declared their intention of representing the Nationalists and have broken off their connections with the Peking Government.

Conditions, as explained by Mr. Loh, involve Shanghai as the key to the situation. The government which can hold this strategic point will be the government to make the demands. The Southern Government is more than anxious to obtain foreign recognition, and will make this one of the points.

CENTRAL FOREIGN OFFICE

Although this is the case, the Chinese pride rebels at acknowledging a divided China, and although internally the two factions remain at loggerheads, to the world China will still present the bland, smiling front by means of a central foreign office. So she will save her national pride and yet conduct her foreign affairs to the satisfaction of both parties.

How soon the central office will be established depends on how soon the southern forces can demand their representation. When it is accomplished, consular appointments will be made who are acceptable to both sides, the difference in foreign relations being settled in China.

THEIR MOTHERS SMOKED SO WHY CAN'T THEY?

Winnipeg Women Defend Themselves and Ridicule Charge Made by Minister

WINNIPEG, Feb. 22.—(By C.P.)—A number of women have come out in defence of their sex and ridiculed charges made recently by Rev. H. C. Lee, of the United Church, that cigarette-smoking mothers were contributing to the moral delinquency of the homes.

"Our grandmothers and great-grandmothers smoked and they did not upset the well known good times," one woman declared when interviewed on the subject.

She believed that smoking was not a new thing for women. It was merely a passing phase of social life and not deeply related to any moral issue or to the national advance or retrogression of the country. An average woman was not an addict to tobacco. She smoked often to keep her husband company and took an occasional puff in company "just to be sociable."

In his denunciation of the cigarette-smoking mother, Mr. Lee said that the offspring of such mothers were "half daffing at birth."

Was So Nervous The Least Noise Made Her Jump

Mrs. W. H. Yates, Ashern, Man., writes:—"I was bothered very much with my heart and nerves, and the least noise would make me jump and almost stop my heart beating. I told my mother about it one day, and she said that she had been bothered the same way and told me to get a box of

When I had taken the one box I felt quite a lot better and by the time I had taken three boxes I got relief."

TIME HONORED CHILD'S PRAYER IS BEAUTIFUL BUT MEANINGLESS, SAID

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 22.—Beautiful, but meaningless to the child, says Mrs. A. Stanley A. Davis, of St. Louis, of the time-honored prayer: "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep."

"The child doesn't know the meaning of all these words," said Mrs. Davis, while attending a Sunday School conference here. "It just sings them off as fast as it can, thinking the sooner said the sooner they can climb into bed."

Teach the child to ask God for things in the language they use to their mothers or to other children, she advised. A child would not ask its mother for something in a rhyme.

Mrs. Davis, mother of three children, has supervision over 153 children in the Euclid Baptist Church in St. Louis.

Commencing at a post planted at northeast corner about 1,000 feet westerly from miners' cabins at head of Huxton Inlet; thence westerly 20 chains; thence southerly about 12 chains; thence easterly 20 chains; thence northerly about 12 chains; and containing 24 acres, more or less.

ROBERT M. CURRIE, Applicant.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made in printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to agricultural purposes, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."
