3500 Canadian Veterans Still in Hospital

THE RED CROSS as your agent brings them cheer

CUPPOSE you were condemned indefinitely to the dreary round of hospital life—after four years of fighting and suffering for Canada!

Your friends far away . . . your means restricted . . . your family, perhaps, having a hard struggle to get along . . .

Wouldn't you long for kindly visitors . . . books, smokes, dainties to brighten the long days . . . the knowledge that someone was watching over the welfare of your family?

About 3500 of Canada's war veterans still face months in hospital. Some are permanently "shut in."

To these the Red Cross brings friendship and cheer. Radios and recreation rooms . . Christmas treats and summer outings . . . weekly visits and frequent entertainments . . . such things serve to show to those who suffered for Canada that Canada cares.

In the three Red Cross Summer Homes, the convalescent and the "hospital-weary" -- some never to be well again—are given a chance to exchange the murk of the city for the pure air, the fresh breezes, the sunny days and the cool nights of the open places.

In three Red Cross Workshops, disabled men who cannot compete in the open labor market are given sheltered employment . . . encouraged to regain their skill and capacity and become independent and self-sustaining.

When sickness comes or work cannot be found, the Red Cross is again the help of the ex-soldier and his family. Medical and nursing aid . . . clothing, food, whichever is needed, the Red Cross helps them to get it. The soldier settler on the frontiers of civilization also finds in the Red Cross a never-failing friend.

The Red Cross supplements the justice of official agencies with the friendliness of personal interest. By supporting the Red Cross, YOU can do YOUR bit for those who fought and suffered.
