WHEAT IN FAR NORTH DIFFICULT TO MARKET

(Edmonton Journal)
Near Fort St. John 40,000 bushels of No. 1 wheat have been produced this year and the problem of its marketing is a difficult one. If the map is consulted, it will be found that this point is inside the British Columbia border on the upper Peace River, two hundred miles west of the town of Peace River. It is between five and six hundred miles northwest of Edmonton. The raising of such a crop there at least serves to enlarge one's ideas as to the extent of the agricultural potentialities of this city's hinterland.

Freak of Currency Gave France Whip Hand Which That Country Now Holds

Interest Rates Now Only 1 1/2 Per Cent and Banks Full of Money; No Unemployment in France Today Says Banker

Telling how France got cheated out of victory in the Great War, forced from her objective by the Wilson fourteen points and domination of America at the Peace Conference and how after many vicissitudes she has recently obtained the whip hand on other nations through a freak of the currency was the tale unfolded by General Raymond Brutinel, K.C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., Paris banker and during the war head of the machine gun section of the Canadian expeditionary forces to the Rotary Club yesterday.

He also expressed a reasoned opinion why Bolshevism which had come to stay in Russia would be eventually shed by civilized countries of the west. Incidentally he mentioned the present cheapness of money in France where interest rates today were only one and a quarter per cent, there being more money in the country than could be used.

In France there is no labor problem today. Out of the forty-six million people only 16,000 are unemployed and yet there are three million laborers in the country who came in directly after the war to help in the reparation of the war stricken area. These are mostly Reds and are a real danger to the country, causing most of the rioting and disturbances of which the world hears. They are only partly absorbed and do not wish to leave the country.

France got financial control only recently. Finances had been going from bad to worse and the price of the franc had gone down to the lowest possible point. Then came a change of administration and the Banque de France commenced to buy up British and American securities. Inside of nine months she had accumulated a billion dollars mostly in dollars but partly in pounds. Then she found herself the arbiter of the finances of the world, her credit became good and still remains so. If she called in the gold for the securities she held the price of the pound would drop very greatly and the cost of living in the states would go up.

In order to prevent any international catastrophe a conference was held two months ago in New York between the head of the Federal Reserve, the Bank of England, Banque De France and Reichsbank. No announcement was made as to the outcome but it is understood that an arrangement was arrived at which would prevent any financial catastrophe and which it is thought will have an effect on the international war debt settlements. At any rate France is in a position today where she cannot be forced to pay any unfair or exorbitant amounts at the instance of either the United States or Great Britain.
