BRITISH HOUSE WILL OPEN TUESDAY

CALIFORNIA WOMAN NEGOTIATES CATALINA CHANNEL

Chinese Situation and Trades Union Bill Are Big Parliament Topics

LONDON, February 7.—With customary pageantry, King George, accompanied by Queen Mary and the Prince of Wales, will open Parliament tomorrow. The situation in China and proposals to alter the Trades Union bill will probably provide the most contentious discussions of the session. The government will be criticized on its handling of the Chinese question. Beyond a doubt, conservative diehards will insist that the government has gone too far in extending the hand of friendship to a country which does not understand or appreciate such gestures, while Labor will assert that the new British policy in the Far East does not go far enough in the way of conciliation. With the exception of brief recesses at Easter and Whitsuntide, the House will be busy until August.

A shake-up in the cabinet is the chief political gossip today but it is generally believed that there will be no important changes.

WILL NOT BE HERE ON TIME

PRINCE OF WALES AND PREMIER BALDWIN COMING TO CANADA BUT ARRIVAL WILL BE LATER THAN JULY 1

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Sunday Times has learned that, although the Prince of Wales and Premier Baldwin intend visiting Canada during the present year, it is highly improbable that they will be able to attend the celebration of the Dominion's birthday on July 1. Their departure for Canada is expected to take place about the end of May or early in August. Premier Baldwin's plans will largely depend on the political situation then.

CONTROVERSY OVER YOUNG MANAGEMENT HAS BEEN SETTLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—Controversy centering around the management of George Young, the Toronto youth who won the Santa Catalina swim last month, was believed to have been settled on Sunday when Mrs. Jane Young, his mother, announced that there would be no change in the present handling of her son's affairs.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 7.—The finding of a body and the wreckage of a fishing boat washed ashore on Cape Lazo led to the identification of the victim as Charles Johnson who was reported missing from Blubber Bay, near Powell River, according to word received by provincial police.

DEMOCRATS MAY NOMINATE REED

MISSOURI SENATOR MENTIONED AS PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY—IS CHAIRMAN OF SENATE FUNDS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 7.—Senator "Jim" Reed of Missouri is now looked on here as a full fledged possibility for the Democratic nomination for President. In fact, he is looked on in many quarters as a full-fledged candidate. The recent speech of Senator Reed in New York, in which the horde of federal "snoopers and spies" was denounced and his views on numerous issues set forth is looked on as the speech of a presidential aspirant. However, it did not need the New York speech for political observers here to be convinced Senator Reed was a presidential possibility or that his friends were active or that he was listening to the voices that have lured so many public men toward the White House goal.

Ever since Senator Reed, as head of the Senate special committee, unearthed huge campaign expenditures in Pennsylvania and Illinois, the talk of him as a presidential prospect has been growing. A number of middle western Democrats were fostering talk of that kind in Chicago last summer when Senator Reed and his committee were probing the expenditures of Frank L. Smith of Illinois in the senatorial primaries.

Senator Reed is recognized as a great lawyer and an able man. However, he has made many enemies in his own party. It would not do to say he has no chance of nomination. So many Democrats are anxious to get rid of both Governor "Al" Smith and McAdoo as presidential possibilities that they would turn in almost any direction if they thought it would end the Smith-McAdoo controversy.

Governor D. D. Dewey of Ohio is another man who will have to be reckoned with, as well as Senator Reed.

If Senator Reed should be named, it is probable it would have to be done by getting the "Al" Smith support as a second choice matter and also getting support from south and west that Smith could not muster.

The religious fight stirred by the Smith-McAdoo contention would, Reed's friends think, be allayed by his nomination, although others think Reed made trouble for himself in his recent Senate speech in which he assailed Senator Heflin for raising the religious question in discussing the Mexican controversy. He would be recognized as a wet and this might make the campaign a fight between the Republicans, with a dr. platform, and the Democrats, with a wet candidate, or one at least anti-prohibition. Stranger things have happened than that the 1928 fight will be one between President Coolidge and Senator Reed.

There was one death and many people were injured as a result of the crush in the immense crowd.

Longbeach Hairdresser Had Harrowing Battle with Giant Barracuda

Despite attack of venomous fish, Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston successfully swims across in 22 hours and 42 minutes

WILMINGTON, California, February 7.—Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston of Longbeach, California, a beauty shop proprietress who, until a year ago, was unable to swim, completed swimming Catalina Channel on Sunday morning. She negotiated the distance in twenty-four hours and forty-two minutes as compared with the time of fifteen hours and forty-five minutes taken by George Young, the Toronto boy, who won the Wrigley contest last month. Mrs. Huddleston swam for no prize, her effort being merely a voluntary one to capture the honor.

Mrs. Huddleston related a harrowing experience of having been attacked by a savage barracuda which bit her about the arms and body. She was about half way across when the fish struck and bit at her left breast and abdomen. In an attempt to ward off further attacks, she was bitten and bruised on the left arm.
