just nine years since the Daily News came under the present management and during that time a great many changes have taken place. The population of the city has just about doubled, Streets have been made, wharves erected, the elevator built and almost everything that is of a permanent character placed here. Nine years ago there were not

In the Daily News there have been changes also. At the time the paper was taken over it had four pages, had a telegraphic serstead of today's, the service costing in all twenty dollars, but it was what the community was willing to pay for at that time. Today there is an almost up-tothe-minute telegraph service, giving a summary of the latest news of the world, and the combined news service cost many hundreds of dollars a month. A paid circulation of approximately five hundred has jumped to fifteen hundred. The shop is equipped with modern machines and a press that prints and folds the paper at one operation. While not fulfilling the wishes or expectations of the management, the paper is commented on favorably by visitors and especially by outside newspapermen who know what it means to publish under conditions

But the end is not yet. The Daily News recently reduced the price of the paper to subscribers, and as the city develops plans for improvements will be ready. Many of these have already been considered but up to the present the conditions have not warranted any further expenditures.

TO INDUCE FRENCH CANADIAN MIGRANTS RETURN TO CANADA

EDMONTON, July 30.-Discussion of ways and means of inducing at least a conusiderable portion of the 3,000,000 French Canadians who have made their homes in the United States to return to Canada, formed the basis of a stirring address delivered by E. Hermary before the second annual convention of the French Canadian Association of Alberta at the Great War Veterans' Memorial

It was a matter of extreme regret that so many native sons who had the interest of the country at heart found it necessary to migrate south of the international border to obtain a livelihood. With so many golden opportunities awaiting settlers in the west it was thought every effort should be put forth to induce them to return to

ALBERTA HAS CLOSE SEASON ON BEAVER NOW

EDMONTON, July 30.-Trapping of beaver in Alberta will not be permitted during the coming winter, according to an announcement made here by Benjamin Lawton, provincial game guardian. Decision of the provincial government on this point was reached following the tabulation of catches made during recent years, which showed a rapidly decreasing number of these valuable animals.

Under the law it is possible for the lieutenant governor-in-council to declare an open season and during the last three years trapping was permitted, but the catch decreased to such an extent that the government, fearing too rapid depletion, decided to give the beaver protection until such time as there are indications of a considerable increase in numbers.

During the season 1925-1926 a total of 15,089 beaver pelts were registered in Alberta, representing a total value of $301,780, or an average of $20. The total for the dominion for the same period was 111,707, representing a value of $2,208,855 or an average of $19.77.
