RUPERT MARKET FOR INTERIOR PRODUCTS EMPHASIZED IN REPORT

has grown year by year in the face of a fairly stationary market. The only possible result has been a decrease in price and last year a small carry over, when the situation was so far improved in that the acreage sown to wheat reduced the acreage in hay. It will do this to a further extent this year with the result that the production of hay is bound to show a decline and thus a surplus will be avoided.

COARSE GRAINS

The Wheat Pool does not handle oats and barley at the Prince Rupert elevator and these grains for feed purposes cannot be shipped east to compete with Alberta products, nor shipped south on account of excessive freight rates. Local consumption has to be depended upon for disposition of the crop, but such markets are limited.

For this reason there is a surplus of oats in the Bulkley Valley, although farther east in the Prince George district such a condition is not reported as existing, shipments of seed oats

ALFALFA HAY The move towards a more diversified type of farming is also noticeable in the fact that Vanderhoof district, this year, shipped out a car of alfalfa hay and has approximately two more cars available, Mr. Sutton states in his report. For some years there have been several small areas in alfalfa, some well established, some otherwise, but the production has been negligible until his year. This amount has been grown by two farmers. They got two crops during the season and an average production three tons per acre. The area in this crop will increase year by year, providing another source of revenue and in turn reducing the volume of timethy hay production. It is very gratifying to note the establishment of alfalfa in the district as each year considerable time and thought have been given to studying conditions with a view towards the successful growing of this

SEED GROWING

The most outstanding feature in 1926 was the increased production of timothy seed, the District Agriculturist at Smithers reports. From the 1925 crop ninety thousand pounds were marketed and from the 1926 crop there will be from seven hundred and fifty thousand to seven hundred and seventy thousand pounds, all of which have been sold to Vernon and Buckerfield, Ltd., Vancouver, at eight cents per pound, f.o.b shipping point, based on No. 1 grade with sacks provided by purchasers. Grade No. 1 has been given to 85 per cent, No. 2 to 15 per cent, and No. 3 o 1 per cent. On purity analysis alone, 99 per cent of the seed would grade No. , but owing to the fact that in threshing the seed has been hulled in excess of the 25 per cent permitted in Grade

No. 1, and 35 per cent permitted in Grade No. 1 C.W., the result is that 14 per cent is grading No. 2. After having put the possibilities of seed growing before the farmers for a number of years, the district agriculturist at Prince George expresses gratification that a start has been made in that phase of production in the Nechaco Valley. He reports that approximately four tons of timothy seed was marketed last year and in small lots sold as 11%c per pound at Vanderhoof, through the medium of farmers' institutes. In speaking of the method of cleaning the seed, Mr. Sutton refers to the ingenuity of one of the growers and says:--While waiting for the Burns Lake machine to finish, rigged an ordinary hand fanning machine with special eves and put the seed through. It was very clean sample to begin with and so he did not have much difficulty. He got grade 1C.W. on his own seed and Grade 2 on his neighbors. In the second case the lower grade was due to

hulled seed only. LIVE STOCK PROSPECTS

That the abattoir at Prince Rupert is proving to be of decided benefit to the beef producers of the Bulkley Valley and Francois Lake district is indicated in the report of the district agriculturist for that area.

Carload shipments started moving to the abattoir early in July, and all beef offering was shipped and marketed by January 10. Formerly the settlers allowed their beef animals to roam the hills until driven home by snow and cold; when all were offered for sale at one time, temporarily over-supplying the markets with the result that prices were forced downward to a point lower-than the cost of production. The old methods of feeding and caring for beef animals, i.e., in winter, feeding only sufficient to sustain life, until new grass appeared in the spring have almost entirely disappeared. Settlers are now more inclined to keep smaller herds, giving them better winter care. so that they can market their beef almost any month in the year, which is more remunerative than the former sys-

Quite a number of settlers are becoming interested in sheep raising. Last fall a double deck car-load was shipped from Lethbridge by Robert Kelley, of Houston, taking advantage of the 25 per cent reduction in freight rates, offered by the railroad for a limited time. Several farmers have also gone in for hog-raising in a small way, and should, within the next two years, be able to ship hogs in car lots to the abattoir in tem of both feeding and marketing.
