NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to-and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

The story from which the play was adapted, a "best story of the year" entry, written by Dixle Wilson under the title of "Here Y'Are, Brother," treats several colorful phases of New York City life with a warmly human realism seldom equalled on the screen. Moreover, it has a "punch," and sparkling comedy to offset touches of pathos.

week end is the first German picture made in America. It has all the settings of Europe; all the technique of the old world; it is a drama from one of Europe's mightiest dramatists; and still it was directed by Clarence Brown, American, at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, in America—and with John Gilbert, American hero of "The Big

"Flesh and the Devil" is Sundermann's epochal drama, "The Undying Past," adapted from the original; filmed in settings so true to life that no better could have been found in Germany itself. It is an intimate story of the German people; of the old world traditions of love and marriage; a great thundering drama of human hearts, and, outside of its interesting qualities of combining European and American screen technique, is one of the most glorious pieces of entertainment in

> Charles Read, the professional tennis champion comments on the value of the half-volley stroke in tennis. One of its advantages is that it conserves energy and saves physical exhaustion. It is essentially an attacking stroke and the value of aggression cannot be over-emphasized. The ball must be met directly it leaves the ground, the racket swung well back and the stroke followed by an upward follow-through movement. This imparts the pull that keeps the shot within bounds. A jerk is fatal and is a common error in young players in making the shot. The follow through should always be made owards the direction in which the ball is going. Think of it first, for it i only through the co-ordination of mind and action that it can be played
