TRAIN WOMEN FOR DOMINIONS

Men Going Overseas and Leaving
Women at Home is Obvious
Danger

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(Canadian Press).—With so many schemes for settlement of boys and young men in the Dominions; how about women settlers? There is obvious danger in a lapsed development of migration, and, now that schemes for settling boys in their teens on the land have come to take rank as the most promising of all, that danger is more real than ever.

The leading organization in training for overseas life, and one which is doing invaluable work in this regard, is the Society for Overseas Settlement of British Women. But an encouraging feature is the establishment by the Lancashire county council of a scheme for training girls as settlers. This is an experiment marked by thoroughness and consequent expense providing for a year's training for each girl. It is being urged that less financially-strong organizations might provide two or three month's training.

The obvious difficulty in migration of women as against male settlers, is that the inducements for women are less than those extended to their brothers. At present the Dominions declare they need "household workers," and the prospect of going half across the world to wield a scrubbing brush is not so enticing.

TRAIN FOR WIFEHOOD

It is the aim now to train English girls not for domestic life in the Dominions but for country life, as the wives of farmers. Town girls cannot easily learn the things that separate the country household from the town one, and where the woman has been given no chance to acquaint herself with conditions on training farms, she will gravitate naturally to the overseas town.

Concerning the strict qualifications requested by dominion officials in connection with women migrants, the Times says: "We can understand what seems at times the over-exacting atti-
