NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to-and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

F. M. Ethridge Takes as Bride Miss Jessie Martin of Vancouver

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. The bride entered the drawing-room with her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Marian Crawford, and took her place under a beautiful floral arch of autumn leaves and asters. The bride looked charming in a French gown of white georgette crepe, trimmed in point Venetian lace, her veil in Juliet style, with coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, lily of the valley and white heather. She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean W. Martin, who made a pretty picture in her gown of pink taffeta and carried pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by David J. Martin, brother of the bride.

During the signing of the register Mrs. C. Norman Boyd sang "All Joy Be Thine." Following the ceremony, dainty buffet luncheon was served, the bride's table being decorated with roses and lily of the valley, and centred with a four-tier wedding cake. Mrs. J. R. Stewart presided at the urns, assisted by Miss B. Chalmer, Miss Lilian Fletcher, Miss Eleanor Boyd and Miss Barbara McBeth. During this time Glenn McMaster riendered several violin solos, accompanied by Miss Irene Bell.
