REVIEW OF VARIOUS ATHLETIC COM-PETITIONS DURING 1926

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 .- (By the Associated Press) .- In a year of sports competition plentifully splashed with the color of international competition, America's complete domination of the golf world, France's smashing individual triumphs in tennis and the return of Germany as an important contender for athletic honors have been outstanding.

Summing up the international campaign on various fronts of activity it is apparent that the United States, while maintaining its traditional all-around leadership, has come fact to face with a rapidly widening range of opposition.

triumphed in this event. Germany furnished substantial evidence of all-around athletic revival but attracted particular attention in track and field sports. Here the Teutons furnished an international sensation in the person of Dr. Otto Peltzer. This blond young middle distance runner shattered Ted Meredith's world record for the half mile, in the British championships, and later conquered Paavo Nurmi and Edwin Wide, the Scandinavian stars, in a record-shattering 500-meter race at
