It must be remembered that the mails at Prince Rupert come seldom and when they do arrive it causes a glut in the office. On Sunday there was not only three days' mail from the East but also a big mail on the steamer Camesun from the south and this in each glacial period, when the North American case included the big Christmas mail. #### WHY SEND EAST FOR GOODS?

While the Post Office authorities did good work in connection only one of the objectives of the exwith the handling of the mail, it seems a pity that there should be such a big parcel mail coming to the city from the big wholesale houses in the East. If the money sent out had been spent here, it would have rushed local merchants off their feet and caused such prosperity as had not been known.

The only way to build up a city is to develop civic loyalty. which is rich in timber, coal, gold. Shop at home and see the city grow.

We know that every person has a right to spend his money where he likes. That is his privilege. The mail order habit works both ways. It makes the goods in addition Captain Bartlett will conbought here dearer than they otherwise would be. If the money duct oceanographic work, dredging and earned here were spent here, merchants could do business on a collecting plankton or fish food, in the smaller margin of profit than they do today. Buy at home is good business not only for the merchants but for the local people and especially for those who wish to see the city prosper.

THE PREFIX "HONORABLE"

(Toronto Globe) The use of the title "honorable" as a prefix continues to be violated somewhat widely in this country, and the newspapers are often enough the culprits. The exploration will last about six from Seattle by the inside passage to Island on the western end of the Alaskan peninsula, where grizzlies and bird life are to be found. The next stop will be Kamchatka, whence the journey will be up the Siberian coast and when the weather permits, through the Behring Straits to the Arctic coast near the mouth of the Kolima River, where ing. are to be found the Siberian moose, which the expedition seeks, and specimens of fresh water fish which are unknown to museums in this country. The economic study of Kamchatka, it was said, would depend largely on the time available. Kamchatka belongs to Russia, but, Mr. McCracken said, the party had received unofficial but assuring advices that no objections would b made to such a study.

The children had got tired of climbing trees and picking flowers. So the Sabbath school teacher suggested that they should have an impromptu concert. One little mite sang; another gave a recitation.
