CORRECT REPORT OF PARLIAMENT

CANADIAN NEWS ORGANIZATION
COMPLIMENTED BY PUBLISHER OF ONTARIO PAPER

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The Press Gallery in the Dominion Parliament at Ottawa was the subject of an interesting address to the Kiwanis Club by Arthur Ford, recently managing editor of the London Free Press, who was a member of the Gallery for 10 years.

Mr. Ford gave a resume of the history of the struggle through the centuries for the right to report parliamentary proceedings and publish such reports. In striking contrast, he told of conditions as they now obtain at Ottawa and in the British House of Commons and of the marked improvement in press reports, from the standpoint of fairness, during the past decade or two.

Mr. Ford spoke in commendatory terms of the work of the Canadian Press at Ottawa. He said while the reports sent out by the Canadian Press representatives may be colorless, to an extent and lack the spice and sparkle of reports of a more partisan nature, he assured his listeners that the Canadian Press reports are fair and unbiased and that what actually happens in the House of Parliament are reported.

Mr. Ford said he also believed that the newspapers of today are fairer in every way politically than they were in the older days. They are still partisan, but they view politics from a broader aspect.

Amusing incidents from his long sojourn in Ottawa and the many interesting friends made, were mentioned by Mr. Ford. Hon. Fernand Rinfret, the secretary of state in the King Government, was an associate in the Ottawa Press Gallery with Mr. Ford. He spoke of Mr. Rinfret in glowing terms, declaring him to be a man possessed of a brilliant intellect and a fine gift of oratory. He doubted if there is a more brilliant man in the King Cabinet than Mr. Rinfret.

Wash RAYON this safe way

RAYON is more sensitive to laundering than any other fabric—never wring it, never twist it, never rub it with cake soap. Rayon is most fragile when wet.

As you might expect, Rayon should be washed only in mild, pure Lux suds—dipping it gently up and down as you do silks.

PICTURESQUE CLOSING OF JASPER CARNIVAL

Court Ball Was Gay and Regal Scene—Many Prizes Were Presented

JASPER, Alberta, Feb. 21.—With a court ball which was attended by more than two hundred couples, the third and most successful winter carnival in the history of Jasper came to a close. It was a gay scene, impregnated with the spirit of gaiety which reigned during the progress of the carnival.

In the centre of the ballroom, on a brightly decorated dais, Miss Margaret Buckam, the winsome queen of the carnival, sat enthroned in the coronation chair, with her maids and matrons of honor, pages and other ladies of her court grouped about her, while round and about the throne glided and swayed the dancers. Supper, over which the queen presided, was served in an adjoining room at midnight.

Before the dancing, the presentation of prizes won during the carnival took place, the Queen officiating.

A special medal was presented to Marion McCarthy, champion speed skater of Alberta for the exhibitions he volunteered and the part he took in making the carnival a success.

Presentations were also made to the Queen and her court. They were: Queen, Miss Margaret Buckam; maid of honor, Miss Cottam; lady in waiting, Mrs. D. Kinset; pages, Miss Hines and Butler.

GRANT MAHOOD REMINISCENT

PREDICTS IN INTERVIEW WITH FINANCIAL POST, THAT PREMIER MOUNTAIN WILL PRODUCE FOUR BIG MINES

TELLS OF EARLY DAYS

Interesting tales of the ups and downs, the might have beens, and what really did happen, in the making of Portland Canal, B.C., a mining camp, were told by Grant Mahood, Portland Canal pioneer, who is now in the east in connection with some of his interests says the Financial Post.

Portland Canal was first found in 1896, when some of the Yukon rushers tried to get in that way over the mountains. It died quickly and came to life again in 1908 and boomed in 1910. It was a real estate not a mining boom. Sir Donald Mann and other interests had been induced to build a railway into Groundhog coal fields, and this started the boom. Messrs. Gillet and McDonald got the contract to build the railway docks and Mr. Mahood was sent up to do the job. Portland Canal has been the scene of his activities ever since.

Mr. Mahood was not long in the camp before he hit into a partnership with O. B. Bush to deal in mines and about the first thing they did was to purchase seven claims from two prospectors, Morrison and Logan. Later they purchased additional claims from another prospector, Dillworth. These claims are now the main holdings of Premier Gold Mines, the sensational precious metal producer of the coast province. Later they acquired additional claims up the same mountain owning what is now B.C. Silver and National Mines, two impressive looking operations which they disposed of. To-day Mr. Mahood controls the fourth property on the mountain, and it takes in the summit, the Extenuate. He is satisfied that it will make a fourth sensational mine, but makes a point that it is only a prospect yet but has attractive showings.

HARD TO GET CAPITAL

It was a hard job in the early days of the camp to interest capital. They had several make attempts to find a mine on Premier Surface showings were not attractive. R. K. Neill took over the property in 1917 for $115,000 paying nothing down, and was about ready to quit when he broke into $500 ore. That made Premier. Also it made many millionaires.

Messrs. Mahood and Bush tried hard to put over a little development syndicate on B.C. Silver, $8 per cent, of which is now owned by Premier and the bulk of the remainder in London. They failed. Mr. Mahood says that the stock they offered at 3 1/2c a share in Vancouver would be worth $50,000 a share today, if the deal had gone through, and the mine is not yet producing. One of the disappointed Vancouver men later bought 50,000 shares at 25c a share and he has retired.

PREMIER IN GOOD SHAPE

Premier, which cost Neill $115,000, is in better shape today than a year ago, said Mr. Mahood. The recent break in the market for the stock he attributes to stock switchers who got a lot of holders to exchange Premier for shares in a small copper operation up near the Yukon boundary. This threw a lot of Premier on the market. He says that in the past year Premier made some excellent discoveries and today has five years blocked out and broken ore ahead of the mill. He considers Premier the best stock for a hold over B.C. Silver, as Premier owns 38 per cent interest in B.C. Silver.

MUCH LIKE PORCUPINE

The formation of the camp is much the same as Porcupine. Greenstone with porphyry intrusions and it is along the contacts that the ore is found. In some places rich, narrow stringers are found in the porphyry, but generally the values are in the greenstones.

Mr. Mahood says Extenuate Mines is being opened up by an adit or tunnel driven into the mountain side. Going in 800 feet will put them 400-ft. under an attractive surface showing. This is a well defined vein opened for 2,100 feet and 825 feet of this, running 10 to 20 feet wide, give assays $1.50 to $18, no blanks. He thought it would average $14. Driving the tunnel in, they found a narrow shoot in the foot-wall and this has widened out to 22 inches of good ore with the tunnel in 115 feet. This, he thinks, will make

Her Little Boy Caught Cold While Out Playing

Mrs. F. Cade, Elmwood, Man., writes: "My little boy caught cold while out playing in the snow. He coughed incessantly all that night and the next day, and nothing I gave him seemed to relieve him. When my husband came home he brought a bottle of

with him. After the second dose my boy was greatly relieved and after the third dose he went to sleep and slept the whole night through without any coughing. I am never without it in the house, and whenever any of the children get the slightest cold it's the first thing I give them."

Price 35c a bottle, large size 60c.; put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare---should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely the next 100 feet interesting, as they should intersect a cross vein and the junction may result in a concentration of values. Despite the fact that the operation is high up on the mountain, Mr. Mahood says their costs are low, $11 per foot for tunnel driving. It cost 3c a pound to get supplies, etc., up the mountain from tidewater, but when the road is extended, as it is intended, this charge will be lowered.
