THIS VERSATILE

MONTH OF MARCH.

DAILY EDITION.

All of the evidence considered, it is agreed that the month of the young Canadian. You New Yorkers ridicule occasionally. March is the dissenting member, the erratic revolutionary, the most make me tired. You think you know fickle of the fickle and the most irresponsible of the undependable everything and you don't know anyamong the 12 major divisions of the calendar year. It is born of both thing. Why, Alberta is a province large nowadays that in order to be democratic winter and spring by virtue of the calendar and weather tradition. It is nature's sample case. There are weather reasons for the existence of the "crazy March hare" and the prophetic association of March with the lion and the lamb.

Throughout the major portion of Canada the month of March is welcomed because it marks the death of winter and the birth of spring. Among the time honored days of the year none is quite so ter appealed to a man near by, apwell-met and joyfully received, as March 21, the first day of spring, parently some one in authority, and Some times the first day of spring does not live up to its calendar endorsed what the girl had said, wheredesignation and harsh winds or deadening snows strive for supre- upon my daughter left in a hurry-she macy over the urge of spring, but to no avail.

FANCY NAME DOESN'T MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE.

A New York physician has created or resurrected a scientific town and you don't want to." name for a very old disease. It is "ergophobia," a combination of two Greek words meaning, "work" and "fear," and is used to describe a psychological ill which creates a feeling of panic in the presence of work.

The ergophobiac, it appears, is not physically unfitted for manual labor but, like the person who has a deadly fear of standing on heights or being trapped in closets or walking through cemeteries at night, he is prey to a curious "dread of unknown shadowy ills that may befall him if he works.

Fastening a fancy name on laziness will probably have no marked effect on the public's attitude toward the hobo. "Bum" is a shorter, more expressive and more memorable description than ergophobiac. The rest of the world, which has its own periods of unenthusiasm over work, will still be inclined to attribute any per- ster of justice draws attention to the manent condition of that sort to what is known, however inaccurate- reduced strength of the force, and ly, as shiftlessness. TODAY AS GOOD AS YESTERDAY.

Tomorrow is usually a little further off than yesterday. Both. however, have a perspective which in some way show them up in nearly their true relation and in other ways distorts the view and makes them appear in strange ways. Yesterday was just a little while since, today and tomorrow will soon be just one of the present

There are dreamers who are continually looking for the better his force by the customs department for day, for the time when men and women will become almost perfect. police officers. So obsessed have they become with the idea that the trend of morals and manners are on the downward INTERESTING SERMON track that acts of slightest indiscretion become degrading and the failure of extreme courtliness shows a decadence in manners.

Yesterday was not a whit better than the today in which we live and the morals of the youth today are the equal of those in the "good old days." Manners of today are better, there may be less gesticulation but there is more gentleness and unselfishness than was the case yesterday. Prudishness and snobbery are at a minimum and the advancement in these two phases of politeness alone more than recompense for what may have been lost in the manners of other days.
