LACROSSE BOOM JUBILEE YEAR

BESIDES JUBILEE AND CANADIAN CHAMPIONSHIPS CANADA HAS TO SELECT TEAM TO ENTER OLYMPIAD

TORONTO, May 5.—(Canadian Press)—So far as Canada is concerned, 1927 ought to be a very important year in the history of lacrosse. In the first place, the Dominion is celebrating the diamond jubilee of Confederation, and in the second place, the best team produced in the country during the coming summer will represent Canada at the Olympic games in 1928. These two incentives ought to combine to put a fresh vitality into the national game, writes the Mail and Empire sports editor.

It is because lacrosse has been regarded for nearly sixty years as the national summer pastime of Canada that the observance of the jubilee possesses a special significance for lacrosse players. Just after the British-American colonies, scattered right across the continent, came together in 1867 to form a new nation, Dr. George Beer, of Montreal, a fine athlete and a great lacrosse enthusiast, suggested that lacrosse would make an appropriate national game. It was the only case on record of a game invented by the aborigines being adopted and civilized by the white man who came into the land to possess it. Lacrosse, under numerous Indian names, belonged to the soil of the country, and it was the French—the first white Canadians—who gave it the name by which it is now called. They noticed that the stick used in the game bore a marked resemblence to the bishop's crozier.

VITALITY OF GAME

Also it struck Dr. Beer that the vitality of lacrosse made it suit a northern people. There was no game under the sun, so Lord Desborough and other sporting experts have pointed out, that calls for a more highly developed manhood; it requires strength and physical fitness, skill and self-control to a very high degree. All these things remain just as true of lacrosse today as they were sixty years ago.

Then there seems to be a possibility that the supremacy of Canada in lacrosse may be challenged at the Olympic games in 1928. It has always, up to now, been taken for granted that nobody could play lacrosse quite as well as the men of the Dominion. Whenever there was an international contest, the Canadians always won with ease. It is more than half a century since the game was taken up in England and Australia, but they have never been able to compete with the young men of our own country. One reason was that they were content to continue playing the game as they had learned it, while the Canadians grew constantly more expert and invented many new wrinkles for improving their technique. However, in the years since the war, the young men of the United States have taken lacrosse to their hearts and in recent years some of the best-known players in Canada have been coaching American college teams and teaching them all the tricks by which games are won. The next Olympic games will provide the first opportunity for testing Canadian versus American players.

CRICKET NOW BEING PLAYED

OPENING COUNTY GAMES THIS WEEK; NEW ZEALAND TEAM MAKING FIRST VISIT

LONDON, May 5.—(Canadian Press).—Cricket comes back to its own again in England this week when most of the Counties are playing their opening engagements. The season will be better than average, although it will not present the impressiveness of last year, when the Australians toured the country and when the mythical "Ashes," the cricket championship between the Old Country and Australia, returned once more to England. This season a team from New Zealand is a visitor. This is the first time a team from New Zealand has visited the motherland. It will be under the captaincy of T. C. Lowry, the old Cantab, and brother-in-law of A. P. C. Chapman, who captained the English eleven which defeated Australia in the last test match. From a County point of view there will be a fine struggle, it is expected, on the part of Yorkshire to regain the supremacy it lost to Lancashire last season.

The newspaper experts are warning cricket officials that they should be on the look-out this year to find likely players for the next English team to visit Australia in the winter of 1928-29. It is pointed out that England cannot rely for ever on Rhodes, Hobbs, Woolley and Hendren. It is known that the next English team for test matches in Australia will contain much new material.

On the technical side the coming season is of particular interest because a new and smaller ball is being tried out in an effort to increase the effectiveness of bowling, and thus reduce the complete mastery batsmen seem able to establish when they settle down to deliberate "stone-wall" tactics.

INDIGESTION
Gas on Stomach Caused Severe Pains

Mrs. C. F. Wheeler, R.R. No. 1, Glen Ewen, Sask., writes:—"For years my eldest son suffered from severe pains and agony from imperfect digestion. He dieted and used artificial digestants, but all to no avail. At last I got him a bottle of and he had not taken the whole bottle before he was greatly relieved. The severe stomach attacks ceased, there was no more gas on the stomach, and he could eat anything he wished."

SPORT CHAT

There have been critics of the proposal to bring a Ketchikan baseball team to Prince Rupert for the celebration of July 1 on the ground that, as the observance of Canada's Diamond Jubilee is essentially a Canadian affair, those participating in it should be Canadians or at least residents of this country. The sports committee, in casting around for competition in baseball, has found that such communities as Anyox that might afford a contest, will be busy celebrating the day themselves. If Canadian material were used it would, therefore, have to be between local teams. As it is deemed that the local fans would like some competition with outsiders and in view of the fact that it has been customary to have Ketchikan here on Dominion Day, Prince Rupert repaying the visit on July 4, it is likely that it will again be decided to bring the northerners down.

The probable measure of success enjoyed on the playing field by Ty Cobb this season is a much discussed matter. One thing is certain, however. He has added one more record to the greatest list of achievements ever recorded by one player. For he has started his twenty-third year in major league baseball, thereby setting a new record for major league service. His twenty-second season last summer tied the enviable record held by Pop Anson, great batter of the olden days. As the season goes along he may break other existing records and probably will; in fact, he cannot play without doing that. They will be his own records, which creates the unusual situation. While his speed and daring on the bases is attested to by some of his marks, the majority of the records serve to emphasize his greatness as a batter.

INCREASE IN TRADE UNIONS

REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF LABOR SHOWS RELATIVE STANDING OF ORGANIZATIONS

OTTAWA, May 5.—The Trade Union movement of the Dominion, according to the Sixteenth Annual Report on Labor Organization in Canada, covering the calendar year, 1926, which has just been issued by the Department of Labor, is made up of the following groups: (1) local branches of international craft organizations, having headquarters in the United States; (2) One Big Union, an international industrial union, with headquarters in Winnipeg; (3) local branches of the Industrial Workers of the World, a revolutionary industrial union which seeks to abolish the wage system, with headquarters in Chicago; (4) non-international craft organizations with headquarters in Canada; (5) independent trade union units, and (6) national and Catholic unions.

The figures presented for the international craft union group, which includes the members of 89 organizations, shows there has been an increase in local branches of 26 and a gain in members of 6,694, the total branches being 2,011 and the combined membership 179,267.

The report from the One Big Union claims 61 local units with a combined membership of 18,665, gains of eight in units and 1,409 in members.

The Industrial Workers of the World, though retaining its six branches, shows a loss in membership of 5,400, the number of members reported being 4,600.

The non-international craft organizations, of which there are 20, had a loss in branches of 15, but an increase in members of 767, the branches now numbering 296 and the membership being 34,837.

The independent units have decreased by two, now standing at 38, of which 33 reported a combined membership of 12,235, an increase of 70.

The National and Catholic Unions have increased by four, there now being 103, the combined membership of which was reported by the Federation of Catholic Workers of Canada to be 25,000, the same as reported for the two previous years. The computation of the above figures indicates a net gain in branches of 21 and an increase in members of 3,540, making a grand total of 2,515 branches of all classes of unions in the Dominion, with a combined reported or estimated membership of 274,604. The membership of all classes of organized labor bodies in Canada, as reported to the department for the past sixteen years, has been as follows:

1911	133,132	1919	378,047
1912	160,120	1920	373,842
1913	175,799	1921	313,320
1914	166,163	1922	276,621
1915	143,343	1923	278,092
1916	160,407	1924	260,643
1917	204,630	1925	271,064
