NEW CONSERVATIVE LEADER

Hon. R. B. Bennett is a Conservative, there is no doubt of that, and the party is to be congratulated on having a man at the head in whom they can depend rather than one who has come over from the other side.

Mr. Bennett is an orator, a millionaire, and a man of high standing in his party and throughout the Dominion. He is a leading lawyer and man of affairs, having a good deal to do with the operations of big business.

The fact that he is a lawyer is sometimes counted against him but if so the same thing may be against Premier King and dozens of other leading men of the Dominion. He is a westerner plenty of opportunities there for capibut his work has been largely in the east of late and his sympathies tal. British Columbia shared in any are with the manufacturers of Ontario rather than with the farmers of the prairies where his home is supposed to be.

On the whole, we do not see that from the list of names presented, the Conservatives could have chosen better than they did. At any rate they have a real leader and one who is sufficiently independent to refuse to have anyone else usurp his position.

SCHOOLBOARD AND COUNCIL

There has at various times been friction between the city council and the school board over the matter of expenditures. The council has taken the stand that it is supreme and that the council is subsidiary to it. The case has been fought out again and again would be well for Prince Rupert to tie but in practically every case the school board has won. It has been to the mining camps, especially Portshown that while the city council collects the money and pays the land canal. bills, the school board is supreme when it comes to deciding how the expenditures shall be made and how much shall be spent.

The most common source of trouble is the procedure under which extraordinary expenditures are made. If the school board wishes a new building, additions or large renewals to buildings, making of playgrounds or any other expenditure which may not be Invasion of Felines Follows One Little classed as ordinary expenditure it makes an estimate of the proposed cost and gives detail of the proposed work and sends it to the city council asking that body to provide for it. If the council feels that it cannot do so out of ordinary expenditure, which is the editorial rooms of the Daily News usually the case, it refuses to include the item and notifies the school board of the refusal. Then it is the duty of the council, ac- structed to allow no one carrying a car cording to law, to pass a bylaw which it puts before the people to pass upstairs and anyone mentioning for them to vote on, to say whether or not the extraordinary expenditure shall be made. The council has no option in the matter.

In the case in dispute between the city and the school board it seems that the city failed in its duty in not formally notifying the school board of its refusal to include an estimate of $10,000 for the domestic quarters and none of the additions to a school building, for making playgrounds and for the installation of a heating plant in one of the schools. It also failed in its duty in not putting before the people a bylaw providing for once a few dozen could be guaranteed the expenditure of that amount if the people so wished. But the trustee sits back and kicks his heels while the alderman faces the responsibility of raising the money.

MARINE BIOLOGICAL BOARD

The Marine Biological Board of Canada is an organization founded by Act of Parliament and which operates under the Minister of Marine and Fisheries. It is composed of men of science from the various universities of the Dominion, representatives from the fishing industries on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, and representatives from the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Its function is to conduct and promote the study of problems which have to do with the aquatic life and the utilization of the products of the sea, as well as the fresh waters, in order that knowledge may be obtained which will enable the fullest and wisest use of this great natural resource.

Its work is divided into two main parts—first, the study of the lives and habits of animals before they are caught, and, second, the LOCAL MAN PRESIDENT study of the utilization of these animals and their products after they are caught. The former study is carried on in the biogolical stations, which are located at Nanaimo, B.C., and St. Andrews, N.B. The latter study is conducted in the fisheries experimental stations which are located at Prince Rupert, B.C., of which D. B. Finn is director, and at Halifax, N.S.

On the Pacific coast, the various scientific workers meet together once a year in order that they may benefit by an exchange of ideas and that they may be kept informed of work which is being undertaken in fields other than their own. Such a conference was held recently in the biological station at Nanaimo and a series of four articles to be published in the Daily News, starting tomorrow, have their foundation in the reports which were presented ejected from the premises. It all arose

One of the members of the editorial staff required a cat. Mice had invaded friends could supply the immediate result was instantaneous and complete. So great was the pressure on the telephone that the staff very soon vacated the premises and allowed the telephone to ring and ring.

Finding efforts to place the cats by telephone useless they began to arrive in sacks and bags and baskets and the end is not yet. No member of the staff is now safe from danger of finding a cat thrust into his pocket or placed trustingly in his arms by some person wishing a good home for the feline. "Cats not wanted" will have to b hung around the necks of members of the staff if the trouble continues. And it all began over one little classified advertisment inserted once and costing fifty cents.
