UNIONS URGED FOR CATHOLICS

NOT ONLY APPROVED BY CHURCH BUT AFFORD SAFE MEANS FOR WORKERS TO OBTAIN JUSTICE, CHAPLAIN SAYS

MONTREAL, Quebec, March 17. (Canadian Press)—Catholic Unions are not only recommended by the church but are considered the safest and the best means for the worker to employ to attain justice, fairplay and reasonable treatment, Rev. Father L. A. Lafortune, assistant chaplain of the Central Council of Catholics and National Syndicates, stated during an address on the occasion of the seventh anniversary of the formation of the syndicate here.

Quoting the words of scripture: "He has given each one care of his neighbor" (Eccles. XVII, 12.) and the Papal encyclical of Pope Leo XIII, "Rerum Novarum," dealing with relations between capital and labor, the speaker gave a long discourse on the logical and moral reasons which led the workers to get together, not only for their own but for the protection of society in general.

In National Catholic Unions, he said, were found the elements of sane co-operation, combined with moral and social advantages which appealed to the workmen throughout the country but particularly in Montreal, where 85 per cent. of workers were eligible to membership. These unions fulfilled every object of social union, in providing means for corporal, spiritual, material and moral advancement.

BENEFIT WOULD ACCRUE

Benefits in procuring better wages, better hygiene conditions, better working hours, observance of the Sabbath and holy days, would all accrue from membership in these societies, which did not oppose in any way the legitimate enterprise of capital or labor, Father Lafortune declared. In addition

DISPUTE HAS BEEN SETTLED

FRIENDLY SOLUTION OF OLD QUESTION IN AFRICA LEAVES BASIS FOR PERMANENT FRIENDSHIP WITH INDIA

CAPETOWN, South Africa, March 17. (Canadian Press)—Both in the Union of South Africa and in India there is general satisfaction at the solution of the Indians-in-South-Africa problem which has caused dispute between the two great members of the empire for years. The scheme arrived at after a "round-table conference" will make for lasting friendship and goodwill between India and South Africa. For many years India has been irritated at the position of Indian natives in the Union while South Africa asserted her right to manage her domestic affairs.

The main points of the agreement are: (1)—Both Government reaffirm recognition of the right of the Union of South Africa to use all just and legitimate means for the maintenance of Western standards of life. (2)—The Union Government recognizes that Indians domiciled in the Union who are prepared to conform to Western standards of life should be enabled to do so. (3)—The Union Government will organize a scheme of assisted emigration to India or other countries where Western standards are not required. Union domicile will be lost after three years' continuous absence, this provision applying generally and not only to Indians. Indians desiring to return to the Union within three years must refund the cost of the assistance granted them under the emigration scheme. (4)—The Government of India recognizes the obligation to look after the Indians on their arrival in India. (5)—The admission to the Union of the wives and children who are minors of Indians will be regulated by Paragraph 3 of Resolution 21 of the Imperial Conference of 1918. (6)—The Union Government agrees not to proceed further with the Areas Reservation Bill. (7)—Both Governments agree to watch the working of the agreement exchanging views from time to time as experience may suggest. (8)—In order to secure continuous co-operation between the two governments the Indian Government is to appoint an agent in the Union.

NOT A VICTORY

The agreement is regarded not as a victory for either side, but rather as the fruit of a common purpose carried out in a spirit of friendly collaboration. On the one hand, the Union has not surrendered freedom to deal with Indian problems by legislation whenever and in whatever way they may deem necessary and just, while on the other hand, the government of India has not bound themselves either permanently or for a limited period to co-operate with the Union in the practical solution of South Africa's problems as agreed upon. The agreement thus is more in the nature of an honorable and friendly understanding than that of a rigid binding treaty. These points were made by Hon. F. D. Malan, minister of the Interior, in outlining the agreement in the Union Assembly.

Two important points about the agreement are that it does not deal with any existing legislation and that emigrants will be assisted by increased bonuses. The full agreement shows that the Union undertakes to provide educational facilities for Indians at the native college at Fort Hare and to advise the Natal provincial authorities to improve Indian education in Natal. When the Trades licensing laws are revised the Union undertakes to consider the Indian suggestion that the discretion of local authorities be limited. Although being part of the existing legislation, the Color Bar Act was not dealt with formally in the agreement. The Union Government undertakes that "the principle underlying the Industrial Conciliation Act and the Wage Act, which enables all employees, including Indians, to take their places on the basis of equal pay for equal work, will be adhered to." The agreement thus satisfies three very sore points of the Indian community in the Union.

WOMEN SMOKERS ARE DISCUSSED

MONTREAL GAZETTE SAYS GOVERNMENT REPORT MAKES UNKIND REFERENCE

MONTREAL, Quebec, March 17. (Canadian Press)—The Gazette in an editorial on "Women and Tobacco" considers that the recent report of the department at Ottawa on the consumption of tobacco in Canada, holds an unkind reference, an increase being set down as "due probably, to women smokers." It was reported from Winnipeg the other day that a number of local women had come out in defence of their sex; they ridiculed charges made by a clergyman that women, through smoking, were contributing to the moral delinquency of the homes, and asserted: "Our grandmothers and great-grandmothers smoked, and they did not upset the well-known good old times." There is, however, a difference between those times and today as regards the smoking habits of women. If the story books are to be relied on, women years ago smoked pipes, and their use was more or less concealed from the public gaze. Today, women smoke cigarettes openly, in the home and publicly almost everywhere, and hostesses who fall, as it were, to scatter cigarettes from top to bottom of their homes, feel themselves, or profess to feel themselves, guilty of a social error. The Winnipeg women, referred to above, declare that the average woman is not an addict to tobacco; they insist that she smokes merely to be sociable or keep her husband company, and maintain that "smoking is only a passing phase of social life."

SO SHORT OF BREATH SHE COULD HARDLY DO HER HOUSEWORK

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare---should make a habit of reading the ads.
