PROPOSALS OF MAJOR GUS LYONS POPULAR.

Major Gus Lyons, the Victoria Conservative member, makes government's proposal that liquor be some worthy suggestions when he urges that Canada assume her divorced from politics, so that there share in the matter of Imperial and self-defence and that the income tax in British Columbia be abolished.

CHEERFUL ATTITUDE GIVES JOY TO ALL.

There is no question but what we all are immeasurably helped by having our good acts praised by our friends. Our digestion improves and an optimistic viewpoint is established whether the commendation is about our personal appearance, a successful business transaction, or what not. However much we are thrilled by words ment had received a good price for the of approval, it is a difficult thing to reap this benefit unless we, timber, and its sale would result in ourselves, learn to look for the good in others and find good reasons most valuable industrial development. for patting our friends on the back.

Everyone of the four basic industries, lumbering, mining, agriculture and fishing, had shown phenomenal development and the credit of the province was the highest of any province in Canada.

He said that while 10 years ago he had remarked to the late Premier Brewster that the P.G.E. would ruin any government, the Liberal government was not yet ruined, and prominent business men held the view that remarkable success had been achieved in carrying the railway burden as well as had been done. He admitted that problem was a difficult one to solve. The Dominion government; Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National; the C.P.R railway, and the Alberta government were not interested; nor had it been possible to sell the line to private purchasers, even considering the fact that land grant of 16,000,000 acres had been provided for last session.

However, added the government leader, everything possible was being done to get settlers on to the lands along the railway, to construct roads, road out of the railway. This seemed Oliver lost the government no friends.

- LIQUOR AND ROADS Another public issue which it is admitted is enough to wreck any administration, is the liquor question. This was freely discussed last week but every criticism was met by the suggestion that if the opposition would faithfully Thursday, Jan. 20, 1927 assist the government, there would be omparatively little difficulty. A demand by the opposition that there be a thorough investigation of the liquor problem is effectively countered by the may be no suspicion of governmental Another attack on the government which was turned back with little difficulty was that against Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, who was accused of selling timber on Graham Island, Queen Charlotte group, for too small a price. However, several Conservative members came to the rescue and stated their belief that the govern-This practically silenced the main opsales of timber.

WHAT PEOPLE are saying about the new Orthophonic Victrola does sound incredible,until-you have heard it play. That is only natural. For years you have been listening to old methods of playing music in the home, But today you have a surprise coming. That surprise is due to a new thing in music-"matched impedance" the exclusively controlled principle applied in the design of the new Orthophonic tone chamber. It is this which produces the beautiful music that will astound you. It is which has heightened immeasurably the degree of enjoyment you can get from home music.

To hear, is to believe-at any "His Master's Voice" establishment. Obtainable on easy terms. Prices $430 down to $115. And please remember for your own protection that "His Master's Voice" trademark identifies the new Orthophonic Victrola.
