ON THE RIGHT TRACK.

The city is on the right track in undertaking the perfecting of recreational facilities for young and old. The most recent proposal is to construct tennis courts at the corner of Sixth Avenue and McBride Street. The grounds there were levelled off by the city for the use of the children as a baseball or football field but of late have not been used. As tennis is becoming very popular in the city and young and old are playing it, the latest proposal should meet with general approval of the citizens and doubtless will be approved by the city council.

The Gyro Club led the way in the matter of playgrounds but their grounds are of a different nature. They have earned the lasting gratitude of the city for the work they have done. Now the Rotary Club is turning its attention along somewhat similar lines and probably will get support. The cost is not expected to be large and the club proposes to finance the undertaking without any appeal to the public.

Coincidentally with this the Acropolis Hill grounds are being improved beyond recognition so that it may be said a new era for outdoor sports and games is dawning. All this makes for advancement. It is a manifestation of the tendency of the age.

There are some men who are best liked when they announce their intention to move.

Every community has a few men who keep themselves poor while they discuss how to save the country from the ills that afflict it.

LETTERS FOR PUBLICATION

It is often necessary to remind readers of rules in connection with letters for publication. The first is that they must be signed although when desired the signature may not be published but a nom de plume used in its place. Often there are people who wish to knock somebody or something and would do it without signing. That is not good policy and usually cannot be allowed. Constructive letters are much more welcome. What we need today is more building up and less destructive criticism. If a man has a genuine kick coming and is willing to sign his name to it he can usually get his letter published but he usually does not want to sign.

Citizens often have suggestions for improvements that would be very valuable if published. To these we offer the use of our columns. We are glad to give them the opportunity of placing their views before the public and if they prefer not to have their names published because of native bashfulness, it does not matter to us. We want their ideas. Write them down and send them in anyway. The city probably needs them.

Supposing concrete sidewalks were to be laid here and the town put on a modern appearance, some of the old timers would die of shock. Be careful, city council, for heaven's sake be careful.

Some people are too busy to play but they are likely to have to find time to be ill. For them the hospital looms ahead.

LETTER WRITING LOST ART

It has been said that the developments of modern civilization have had such an effect upon home life that letter writing has become almost a lost art. People do not write as well as they did once. And yet it is doubtful if this is true. There are today many good letter writers. They make their letters so interesting that the recipients are glad to receive them and feel refreshed as a result. Many a letter is like a fresh summer breeze.

On the other hand there are letters that are dead and uninteresting. They tell little and what is told is told so badly that it had better have been left untold.

Letter writing is a great art, just as important as conversation but only a few cultivate it.

It's hard to understand how a woman should have to slug her husband in order to kill him. She can always cook for him.

The man who is fooled by a political argument is the same one who buys a sure thing from an expert salesman.

BUY NEWSPAPERS DAY OF ISSUE

A great many people who wish extra copies of any particular number of the paper come in the day after publication expecting to secure copies. This is a great mistake because often the paper is sold out. So far as possible it is planned to have a few papers over at the end of the day but it is impossible to estimate how many will be needed and the result is that many are disappointed. This happens so often that it would seem as if people would learn but they do not. The time to buy newspapers is on the day they are issued. If there are any left over you can get them later but they have to pay the same price and it would be more convenient for everyone concerned and would save disappointment if they would make their purchases on the day of publication.

You don't mind a man being better than yourself if he does not continually let you know he thinks so.

Don't argue. It is better to let the fool have his way.

TWO BISHOPS GOING NORTH

STRINGER OF YUKON AND ROWE OF ALASKA PASSENGERS ABOARD PRINCESS ALICE THIS MORNING

Two noted northern bishops were passengers going north aboard the steamer Princess Alice which was in port this morning.

Bishop Isaac O. Stringer, pioneer Klondike clergyman, was on his way to Dawson on a rush visit from which he will return in about a month's time to proceed direct from Prince Rupert to Edmonton on his way to the mouth of the Mackenzie River. He is now acting administrator of Mackenzie diocese. Bishop Stringer is just back from a trip to Florida which greatly benefited his health which last year had not been of the best. Going north with him was his son, Alex.

The other was Bishop E. T. Rowe of Alaska who will visit Ketchikan and Wrangell before returning south to Seattle where he will embark for Nome to visit the various points in Northwestern Alaska. Bishop Rowe, who is now making his home in Victoria where he has a son attending University College, is also just back from a trip to Florida and other parts of the Eastern States. He is contemplating retiring soon and states that he will take up permanent residence in Victoria.

BIG DAMAGES TO FIREMAN

MAN GETS $12,500 FOR HAVING HEAD STRUCK BY BOX CAR NEAR EDMONTON

EDMONTON, May 18.—Absent from the court room for little more than thirty minutes, the jury of six hearing the Lord action informed Mr. Justice Walsh that they were agreed that Harry Lord, former G.T.P. fireman, be awarded a total of $12,500 special and general damages for the injuries sustained by the plaintiff when his head was struck by a standing boxcar on a converging track at Three Hills as he was looking out of the engine cab for signals from the brakeman at the rear of the train. The accident occurred on December 10, 1925.

The jury also made a recommendation to the effect that the special damages of $10,000 be administered as a trust fund for Lord, owing to his mental condition. (Lord lost his memory and identity and wandered away from home, it was brought out during the course of the two-day hearing.)

NOT IN BISHOP'S POWER

His lordship pointed out, however, that this was not in his power, Lord was of age and was in control of his own affairs, he declared, and there was no authority under which he could follow the jurors' recommendation. On the motion of D. Campbell, K.C., Winnipeg, who was associated with H. A. Friedmann in the case for the plaintiff, the court made an award of $772.50 to the plaintiff for medical expenses and also gave costs against the defendant company. Mr. Maclean's request for a 30-day stay of proceedings was granted.

OWNER OF MILK WAS FINALLY DISCOVERED

Daily News Staff Much Worried Over Appearance of Bottle of Lactal Fluid Outside Door

A member of the Daily News staff was this morning much surprised and puzzled to find a large bottle of milk outside the shop door. As there were not known to be any who needed milk in the morning to revive them after the overnight exertions, he wondered whose it could be. What member of the staff had at last been led astray and been forced to resort to the morning restorer? The bottle was lifted gingerly and suspiciously and placed on the desk of the business manager.

On his arrival the business manager disclaimed ownership. He was no milk-sop, he declared. It must belong upstairs, but the upstairs would have none of it. They were not guilty. Editors and reporters, in the course of their official duties have to be out late often, but they do not need milk to restore them but rely on quiet sleep and a clear conscience to do the work.

What to do with the milk? was the question. It looked like good milk but no one was thirsty. At last it was decided to place it in the entry hall and give it to the first person entering who looked dry and in need of such refreshment. It did not stay there long. It was lifted by a representative of a rival establishment and the minds of employees of the Daily News were once more at ease.

Dr. Learoyd of Anyox, who was a passenger south on the Prince Rupert last night from the smelter town, will proceed to Chicago where he will take up post-graduate work. Mrs. Learoyd and family, who were also southbound, will remain in Vancouver during his absence in the East.

John Larsen, found guilty on a charge of drunkenness, was assessed $25, with the option of thirty days' imprisonment, by Magistrate McClymont in the city police court yesterday afternoon.

ALLEGED ABUSE OF PRIVILEGE

COMPLAINT THAT U.S. BOATS USE CANADIAN PORTS MORE THAN IS NECESSARY

American fishermen were recently notified of a protest from the Canadian government to that of the United States regarding unwarranted visits of fishing vessels of the United States to Vancouver Island ports, in violation of the treaty of 1818 says the Pacific Fisherman. Under this treaty the United States renounces any liberty of its inhabitants to take, dry or cure fish on or within three miles of the Canadian coast, harbor, etc., with the proviso that American fishermen may enter such bays or harbors only for shelter, repairs, and purchase of wood and water.

NOT HALIBUT BOATS

Through inquiries directed to Washington and Ottawa, it is learned that this protest is not aimed at vessels of the halibut fleet, which have been accustomed to visit a number of British Columbia ports for purposes specified by order-in-council; but rather at salmon trolling boats which have, for the past two seasons at least, been largely using ports on the west coast of Vancouver Island and are said to have made such ports practically a base of operations, resorting to them nightly not because of unfavorable weather conditions but for comfort and rest. Such use of Canadian ports, when fishing operations are being carried on in extra-territorial waters immediately adjacent, is held to place United States boats on a practically equally favorable basis with Canadian boats in Canadian ports, notwithstanding that the catches of the latter are subject to a duty of 2c per lb. when entering United States markets.

LICENSES

As for the halibut boats, they are still eligible for licenses at the nominal rate of $1.00 each to visit British Columbia ports for the purchase of bait, ice, etc.; to ship crews; to land their catches without duty for shipment in bond to the United States; and to land catches for Canadian sale on payment of duty. It is stated in unofficial quarters, however, that some American halibut boats also have been entering out-of-the-way ports of British Columbia and laying up for days at a time without licenses, and in so doing make themselves liable to trouble under the above treaty.

It is understood that the Canadian authorities will follow this matter up actively this season, and American fishermen are cautioned to comply strictly with the treaty and thus obviate necessity for punitive action on the part of the Canadians.

WORK ON FISH OIL TANKS TO START WITHIN TEN DAYS

VICTORIA, May 19.—Tenders are being called immediately by the C.N.R. for the construction of oil tanks to bring to Victoria business from the fish reduction plants of the west coast, C. P. W. Schwengers, president, reported at the meeting of the directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Work is expected to start in the next ten days. Railroad representatives were also coming to Victoria to investigate the inter-switching of C.N.R. and C.P.R. cars and he believed there was every indication that the inter-switching would be put into operation without the Chamber being forced to apply to the Railway Commission.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

MAY 20, 1917.
The establishment of an abattoir in Prince Rupert is urged. While it might be preferable that such a plant should be started privately, the city is being asked to take action on the matter.

The marriage took place in the Presbyterian Church this morning, Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant officiating of Miss S. Hatheway of Seattle and Frank A. McKinnon of Anyox. James H. Thompson attended the groom and, after the ceremony, a luncheon was held in the Bayview Hotel. After a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon will take up residence in Anyox.

Rev. J. F. Dimmock has been transferred at the Methodist Church Conference.

GLOBE TROTTER IS VISITING THE CITY

Harry Massey Seaton, ex-imperial ser vice man and globe trotter, is a visitor in the city over the week-end.

Mr. Seaton, in the course of a walking trip around the world, has travelled extensively in remote Asiatic countries, having almost reached Lassa, the forbidden city of the Lamas in Tibet, a region into which very few white men have ever penetrated.

While in the city Mr. Seaton expects to give a lecture on his travels which will be of intense interest to all who feel the lure of the mysterious East.

Kenny Smith was a passenger leaving here on the Princess Alice this morning for Ketchikan. He plans on spending the next three or four weeks at Bell Island hot springs.
