Leader of Opposition Takes Exception to Premier's Old Age Pension Bill---Premature

VICTORIA, February 2 .- When Premier Oliver's old age pension bill was up for its second reading in the legislature yesterday afternoon, it was subjected to criticism by R. H. Pooley, Conservative house leader. The bill proposes to bring into effect by proclamation a provincial measure based on a Dominion Act which the Ot tawa government proposes to introduce into federal parliament. Mr. Pooley criticized the introduction of a measure which he said was intended to cover legislation to be introduced in the federal house but which had not yet been brought in.
