QUARTER of a century in the milk business has taught us that milk quality must begin with the cow.

And so the Carnation Milk Farms, with their world-famous herds of Holstein cattle, seek to encourage and provide better dairy stock.

But Carnation does not stop "better cows". Carnation seeks "better farms" - and the Carnation Field Force spends its time inspecting farms and educating farmers. Carnation seeks "better methods"-and the Carnation Condenseries are models to which the whole world looks for newest thoughts in the handling of milk.

Safety, purity, uniformity and double - richness - these are yours for the price of a tin of Carnation milk. Use Carnation for cooking, to secure better results and in place of cream at one-third cream's cost. Order from your grocer several tins or a

CIUWII CUIUITY Days

Away back in the late sixties thousands of acres of British Columbia's timber were sold for one cent per acre, which looked like a fair price—then. Today similar timber is worth from $150 to $200 per acre, so tremendously has timber appreciated in value within the scope of an average lifetime.

What the young growth of today will be worth sixty years from now is beyond computation if it is protected from fire and allowed to reach maturity.

The moral is obvious.
