Milton Gonzales returned from Smithers on yesterday afternoon's train.

Olof Hanson returned to the city from the interior on yesterday afternoon's train.

Andrew Sostad, manager of a placer mine near Atlin, returned north on the steamer Princess Alice this morning.

Yesterday afternoon's train was delayed an hour and a half on account of a small slide between here and Terrace.

Judge F. McB. Young returned to the city yesterday afternoon from Smithers where he has been holding sessions of County Court.

Mr. Smith, of the Barrington transportation company, which operates on the Stikine River, was a passenger on the steamer Princess Alice this morning for Wrangell.

W. H. Wheeler, manager of the White Pass and Yukon Railway, accompanied by his daughter, was a passenger for the north on the steamer Princess Alice this morning.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Alice arrived from the south this morning at 9.30 and sailed for Alaska points at 12.30 noon. The vessel had a passenger list of 83 when she arrived here. Three passengers debarked here and the remainder continued north to Alaska points.

The Japanese grain ship Kofuku, having completed fumigation in the stream, moved into the dry dock pier yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock and started lining this morning. The vessel is billed to get down to the elevator next Tuesday to start loading a full cargo for the United Kingdom or continent.

Included in the passenger list of the steamer Princess Alice this morning was a party of eight moving picture people from the Metro-Goldwyn studios. They are booked for Skagway and are in charge of Mr. Schenck. It is understood that they are an advance party who will make arrangements to "shoot" certain scenes requiring a northern background. Others from the same studio will join the party at a later date.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL READY TO START

At the recent annual meeting of the Junior Football League a very satisfactory statement was presented. The winner of the league last season was Borden School with Booth runners-up. A cash balance was reported after all expenses including medals for the winning team and the banquet to all teams, had been paid.

The officers for the ensuing year are as last year:

Chairman, J. S. Wilson.

Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Mills.

Delegate to Football Association, W. W. C. O'Neill.

The school representatives at the league are :

Hight School, T. H. Peddle, M.A.

Borden, W. W. C. O'Neill.

Booth, D. H. Hartness, and the captains of teams. High School, E. Smith; Borden School, Albert Styles; Booth School, Tom Kelsey. Jack Campbell is coach for Borden Street and referee.

Subject to the ground being in fit condition for the boys to play, the season will commence on Saturday, May 7, when the Borden and Booth teams will renew hostilities. High and Borden meet the following Saturday and Booth and High the next.

All teams will turn out new players and already keen interest is being shown by the boys and their supporters. It is to be hoped that the older players and supporters of the game and of sport in general will give the league their practical support and turn out to encourage the boys.

SPORT CHAT

Bugler, a nine year old gelding, who has been a great favorite among horse racing fans, died recently in Tijuana. He was a great distance runner and last summer won four races in five days.

Having passed his twenty-fifth birthday, Bobby Jones, famous golfer, believes he is old enough now to exchange "Bobby" for just plain "Bob." He confessed a desire to be called "Bob" to a Chicago golfer, in the south. "Bobby" he said "is too kiddish."

Excited spectators at sports events weigh a great deal more than persons who are nonchalant and sit still. In the building of grandstands, such as the one just completed at Epsom, England, for the recent opening of the spring racing meet, this fact had to be taken into consideration by the architects. The Epsom stand and similar structures are designed to bear not only the approximate weight of the spectators they will comfortably accommodate, but also the weight of their excitement, which at times more than doubles. It has been calculated by British architects that if a grandstand is designed to hold a crowd expected to weigh normally 300 tons, a foundation and supports must be provided which will stand the weight of at least 1,000 tons. They explain this by the fact that when people are excited they weigh considerably more than when sitting still. A crouching person adds 60 to 65 per cent to his weight in straightening himself up, and to rise from a sitting position adds nearly 80 per cent to his weight. By raising with a sudden jerk, as spectators art apt to do at exciting moments, it has been estimated that it is possible to add momentarily more than 150 per cent to one's weight.
