WEST INDIES AND CANADA

OTTAWA TO OPEN TENDERS FOR TWO STEAMER SERVICES FROM ATLANTIC AND ST. LAWRENCE PORTS

PROVISION FOR PASSENGERS

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—(By Canadian Press.)—Tenders for an elaborate mail, passenger and freight steamship service between Canada and the British West Indies have been invited by the department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa. The tenders will be opened on January 20. The service is called for in the trade treaty negotiated in 1925 between the Dominion, the West Indies, Bermuda, British Guiana and British Honduras. This is the second occasion upon which Canada has called for tenders for the service; last year it was said that none of the companies bidding were able to supply adequate service.

The trade treaty with a long list of mutual tariff concessions has been ratified by Canada and by the Islands and is only kept from becoming operative by the delay in the setting up of the ship services. Should the lines be established they will supply a faster and more frequent means of communication between these two parts of British North America than has ever existed before. At the present time the Canadian Government is paying $340,000 annually in subsidies to steamship companies to maintain a service which the islands have claimed is quite inadequate to permit them to sell their natural products to the best advantage in Canada. To establish the proposed communications will cost Canada a great deal more money in annual subsidies.

SERVICES CALLED FOR
The contract will provide for two services. The Eastern Service calls for ships calling fortnightly, all the year round, at Canadian Atlantic ports, Bermuda, St. Kitts, Nevis, Antigua, Montserrat, Dominica, St. Lucia, Barbados, St. Vincent, Grenada, Tobago, Trinidad and Demerara. The vessels are to be 6,000 tons, capable of twelve knots with accommodation for 100 first class.

NAVIGABLE WATERS PROTECTION ACT
R.S.C., CHAPTER 115

Edward Lipsett, Limited, of the City of Vancouver, hereby gives notice that he has under Section 7 of the said Act deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa and in the office of the District Registrar of the Land Registry District of Prince Rupert, a description of the site and the plans of wharf proposed to be built in the Harbor of Prince Rupert in front of Lot 2, Block G, Section 1, Map 923.

Hot Porridge for Cold Days SHREDDED WHEAT

Simmer the biscuits and serve with hot milk. Delicious.

30 second class and 100 steerage passengers. Each is to have 10,000 cubic feet for cold storage. In addition to this a fortnightly freight service of 4,300 tons vessels with a speed of ten knots from Canadian river ports in summer and ocean ports in winter calling at St. Kitts, Antigua, Barbados, Trinidad and Demerara. Freight rates are to be subject to the control of the Government of Canada.

The Western Service is to carry mail, passengers and freight between St. Lawrence ports in summer and Canadian ocean ports in winter calling both ways at Bermuda, the Bahamas and Kingston, Jamaica. The passenger vessels are to be 6,000 tons with accommodation for 100 first class passengers and with a speed of 14 knots. Refrigeration is to be provided for 70,000 stems of bananas and for Canadian meats and dairy products. The freight steamers are to have a speed of 10 knots and refrigeration for 50,000 stems of bananas. A smaller steamer of about 1,000 tons with room for 20 first class passengers and cold storage space is to be operated fortnightly between Kingston, Jamaica and British Honduras connecting with the passenger vessels operating between the islands and Canada.

TEN YEAR CONTRACT
The contracts will be for a ten year period. The entire subsidy will not be borne by the government of Canada; under the treaty 29,000 pounds annually will be contributed by the Barbados, Bermuda, British Guiana, the Leeward Islands, Trinidad and the Windward Islands.

More than a little interest in shipping circles has been aroused by the inviting of the tenders for the new service. It is known that several of the great shipping companies are anxious to secure the contract. The Canadian Government Merchant Marine it is said is among those tendering as a private company. Although the Government's own merchant fleet has not ships which quite meet the requirements called for, it is understood that they are prepared to build or reconstruct vessels to suit the trade if the contract is secured.

WATER NOTICE

DIVERSION AND USE
TAKE NOTICE that James Field, whose address is 213-2nd Ave., Prince Rupert, B.C., will apply for a licence to take and use 1 cubic foot per second of water out of unnamed creek, which flows easterly and drains into Crescent Inlet, Moresby Island, Q.C.I., about one mile from the head of the Inlet on the north shore. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about 1,000 feet from the mouth and will be used for domestic and canning purposes upon the 40 acres of land described as unsurveyed land, for which purchase is applied about 15 chains southwesterly from the mouth of the stream.

This notice is posted on the ground on the 20th day of November, 1926. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act," will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Prince Rupert, B.C. Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper. The date of the first publication is December 20, 1926.

DOUGLAS MACLEAN IN "HOLD THAT LION"

Lion Hunt Furnishes Laugh and Thrill Climax for Thursday's Night's Picture

Picturegoers who visit the Westholme Theatre next Thursday night are assured of a royal good time. Douglas MacLean, acknowledged king of comedy, will be there with his latest mirthquake, "Hold that Lion," supported, as the title promisingly suggests, by several kings of the jungle.

Besides the smiling funster and his unsociable pets, the picture reveals a number of other personalities who share in the general fun and excitement. Constance Howard, a blonde and petite newcomer, makes an impressive screen debut as MacLean's leading lady. Walter Hiers, who is just as funny as he is fat and vice versa, contributes a goodly quota of laughs on his own account. Cyril Chadwick, Wade Boteler and George Pearce—all tried and true players—ably second the active and irrepressible star.

In "Hold that Lion" MacLean starts out to demonstrate that the way of a man to the heart of a maid is sometimes via the big game hunting route. He ends up by proving that love can laugh at lions as well as locksmiths. The story has its beginning in New York, where the romantic Douglas first sets eyes on the beautiful blonde, who becomes the unconscious cause of all his trials and tribulations.

When the girl leaves on a round-the-world trip with her father, MacLean impulsively follows. The chase leads to Cherbourg, then to Gibraltar, next to Naples and finally to East Africa. By that time, Hiers, who has accompanied him, is minus his breath and MacLean is minus his trousers. His antics as a trouserless Romeo furnish some of the most uproarious moments in the picture.

But it is in the lion hunting scenes that the film reaches the heights of hilarity. As a big game hunter, MacLean proves that he is in a class by himself. His method of capturing a lion would make even a wooden Indian roar with laughter.

COLLEEN MOORE IN BIG CITY ROMANCE

Delightful Story of Middle Class Life In New York Coming in Week-end Picture "It Must Be Love"

Promise of a delightful romance of middle class life in New York is made by the management of the Westholme Theatre, where "It Must Be Love," Colleen Moore's latest First National starring vehicle will be shown at the week-end.

"It Must Be Love," adapted from Brooke Hanlon's story, "Delicatessen," is declared to be one of the most human stories of the year, being replete with heart-throbs as well as the well-known Colleen Moore chuckles. This production centers in the situation a girl finds herself in when she gets a beau and is ashamed to bring

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely him to her home in back of a delicatessen store.

There are many such cases in our own families, in the families around the corner and on the next block. It is this sense of nearness, this feeling of actuality and everyday humanness which gives Miss Moore the opportunity to draw the most out of her very appealing part as the girl who has to sacrifice living at home for her pride.

Malcolm McGregor plays the role of the sweetheart, who never finds out till the end that his girl has been deceiving him as to her parentage. Jean Hersholt as the father and Bodil Rossing as the mother make a marvelously effective pair in their German characterizations.

Others in the cast, which Alfred E. Green directed, are Arthur Stone, Dorothy Seastrom, Cleve Moore, Mary O'Brien and Ray Hallor.
