CAROL HAVING HECTIC TIME

PHILANDERING ROUMANIAN PRINCE ASKS PROTECTION FROM HIS FORMER LADY LOVE

PARIS, Feb. 3.—Former Crown Prince Carol, philandering exile from Roumania, again has appealed to the Paris police, and this time has asked protection from Madame Zizi Lambrino, his morganatic wife, and his small son Mircea. Enduring a year-long siege of police, Roumanians who would have him to Bucharest, and newspapermen, Carol became furious, when Mme. Lambrino and her son picketed his villa, and the boy, standing outside the barred gates, called, "Papa, papa."

The former royal heir to King Ferdinand's throne went immediately to the office of M. Bressot, one of the directors of the police, and asked for protection against further such incidents. He asked that Mme. Lambrino be deported. It was Carol's second call in recent weeks at the police offices. Previously when it was erroneously reported that he had left Paris, he sought the aid of police in keeping newspaper reporters away from his villa.

DEPORTATION IMPOSSIBLE

He was told by Bressot that deportation of Mme. Lambrino was impossible, but that she would be asked not to visit his villa in the future. Two detectives would be kept on duty there day and night, Carol was assured.

CANADA HAS NO REASON TO FEEL ASHAMED HERSELF

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—That Canada has no cause to be ashamed of her standing with other nations of the world or of her contributions to the cause of public health and that the League of Red Cross Societies, representing 56 countries, with headquarters in France is doing an indispensable and invaluable peace-time work are the considered opinions of Dr. P. W. Routley, Director of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, who has just returned from a three month's sojourn in Paris, where he was in charge of the

Dr. Routley said: "I was highly gratified to find that Canada occupies a front rank with the four or five foremost nations of the world in matters of public health. We cannot hope to do on so large a scale the things done in Great Britain and the United States, but in our standard methods, and some accomplishments we are second to none."

"I found the Europeans intensely interested in the Red Cross Outpost Hospitals in our frontier sections in our Junior Red Cross and in our Visiting Housekeepers' Centre as seen in the Toronto Branch of our Society." These activities of the Canadian Red Cross were serving as models for the Red Cross Organizations in other countries, he added.

INSPIRATION FOR THIS PAINTING

UNDERGROUND RAILWAYS AS ART—RUSSIAN PAINTS NEW STYLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Shivering slumber in subways provided inspiration for a painting that has put the underground railways in art and brought recognition to the painter that used them as his boudoir.

The painter, who has immortalized the subway stations, where penniless sometimes sleep, is Anatol Shulkin, who came to New York from Russia as an immigrant in 1912, when he was 13 years old. The painting, under the title "Half Past Five," is one of a group of his canvases placed on exhibition at the Art Center Gallery as part of its January exhibit.

Struggling masses of humanity strive for entrance to a subway train, while burly guards "strong-arm" them into the doorways, in the interpretation of the rush hour painted by Shulkin. In the grotesque light of the tunnels, the crowds are caught at the moment when guards would be shouting "plenty of room up front!" although every car is packed.

The subway scene, Shulkin said, is not an attempt to put something new in art, but is a fancy born of his recollections of nights spent in the subway when, without money to pay for lodging, he slept in them. His lack of funds was due, he said, to the fact that his family would not aid him in his attempt to become an artist. It was intended that he should become an engineer, but when he refused to study that profession he was unwelcome at home.

He attended classes at the National Academy and made his way as best he could. At the age of 27, Shulkin's dream of an artistic career fructified with the present exhibit, his paintings being shown with those of such famous artists as Hodler, Anisfeld and Mestrovic.

TORONTO WOMEN SEARCH HEARTS

DANGER OF CHILDREN GOING TO SHOWS UNACCOMPANIED IS REAL ONE

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—(By Canadian Press.)—There has been much searching of heart among mothers in the city over the tragedy of the tiny children, smothered and crushed to death in a moving picture theatre in Montreal. The danger of children being unaccompanied by adults is a very real one.

The Ontario regulation as to this reads:

"A child under the age of 15 years unaccompanied by an adult shall not be permitted to attend any exhibition by cinematograph, moving picture machine, or other similar apparatus, for admission to which a fee is charged, except on Saturday of each week and on public and legal holidays, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m., during which hours a matron, to be remunerated by the exhibitor, shall be engaged in such theatre, whose duty it shall be to supervise the conduct of such children and of adults toward them while in such theatre, the appointment of such matron to be sanctioned in such manner as the Treasurer of Ontario may direct; and the Treasurer of Ontario may at any theatre, in his discretion dispense with the attendance of a matron."

TEA, SUPPER AND CONCERT GIVEN BY UNITED CHURCH W.M.S.

The Women's Missionary Society of the First United Church held a very successful tea and sale of home cooking yesterday afternoon in the church parlors followed by a supper and program last evening as a result of which a substantial sum was realized for the missionary work of the church. Mrs. G. V. Wilkinson, president of the society, and Mrs. W. B. Cornish looked after the tea room, Mrs. J. S. Irvine was in charge of the home cooking; the girls of the C.G.I.T. were in charge of the candy stall while Mrs. G. G. Hacker supervised the arrangements for the

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely

ALLOWANCES MADE FOR GRANBY COMPANY

Provincial Court of Revision Finishes Its Work and Adjourns

The provincial court of revision completed its work yesterday afternoon when certain adjustments were allowed by John Dymbavn, judge, to the Granby Company. All other appeals heard by the board were of minor character and in several minor adjustments were made. This disposes of the assessment roll for the ensuing year which was compiled by the provincial assessor C. W. Homer.
