iting sisters were welcomed and they gave an interesting display of degree work. The meeting was followed by cards and dancing.

At midnight the gathering went to Progress Hall where a sumptuous banquet was spread and partaken of. Short addresses of welcome to the visitors were again made by the noble grand of each of the local lodges and replies made by a number of the visiting ladies. The company then returned to the lodge rooms where dancing was continued.

The Prince Rupert visitors included Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. F. Morris, Mrs.
