

ESKIMO TELLS STRANGE TALE

JERRY KELOCHA, FROM TELLER, IS INTERVIEWED IN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15.—(By Canadian Press).—One of Santa Claus' hired men from the immediate boundaries of the North Pole, was a visitor in Winnipeg recently. His name is Jerry Keloch and he is an Eskimo. Jerry is a short little man, brown skinned, black hair and glistening black eyes. He speaks English well, although his accent is slightly French. His job in life is to herd 2,000 odd reindeer in the distant Northland.

Last September Jerry and eleven comrades were hired to take a herd of 143 reindeer to cities in the United States. They expect to be back in their native haunts sometime in June.

Jerry is a reticent individual, but in response to persuasion he unfolded a strange tale. For five years he said he had been herding reindeer in Alaska, away up in the bleak country near Teller. With three other comrades Jerry is responsible for 10,000 deer. That wasn't the largest herd by any means, for at one time they had 75,000 head under their care.

BRINGING DEER OUT
The twelve natives left Alaska late in September by boat and then by train from Seattle to Chicago, where they parted. Jerry took four deer to Buffalo, N.Y., where he set to work to break them into harness.

Now that his mission is ended, the twelve Eskimaux are on their way home. Jerry was the only one who journeyed through Canada. Although it was Jerry's first trip into civilization, he was not particularly thrilled with the wonders of city life. Railway trains were only "pretty good" and the noise of the city traffic was too much for him. He enjoyed the trip all right, he said, but he confessed that he would not care to live in the populated land of the white man. Civilization was too lonely for an Eskimo. He preferred to be among his own people.

Reindeer raising, according to Jerry, is a profitable business in Alaska. The firms he works for handles hundreds of thousand head and ship out great quantities of meat from cold storage. Of the 143 deer shipped to the States, only four died. The others were sold at an average of $1,000 apiece. In the north they are valued at $25 a head.

HUMAN FLY GETS TWO WEEKS IN JAIL

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—"Climbing Max," as Berlin's best known "human fly" calls himself, is having a series of hard luck episodes in his artistic life that is most distressing to him.

A few days ago Max climbed up the facade of a building on Unter den Linden but got stuck near the top and had to be rescued by the fire department. Summoned to court, he proceeded to execute another faux pas by going to the court house and climbing, as he thought, unobserved, up the outside of the building, intending to make a dramatic entrance by stepping into the court room on the third floor through one of the windows.

Unfortunately "Climbing Max" picked the wrong part of the building for his climb and, stepping into an empty room, found the door locked. Forced to beat a retreat down the outside the way he had come, Max landed in the arms of a policeman. The "schupo" took him up the right way this time and when he emerged, it was on his way to jail to serve a fortnight's sentence for his disapproved adventurism.

FORMER WELL-KNOWN LABOR LEADER MUST PAY DAMAGE IN SUIT

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15.—Damages of $5,000 against Jack Kavanagh, formerly well-known Vancouver labor leader, were awarded Orpen More Hungerford, as well as a decree absolute against his wife, Edna Louise Hungerford, by Mr. Justice Morrison in Supreme Court this morning at trial of Hungerford's divorce action.

Kavanagh, the petitioner stated, left Vancouver in company with Mrs. Hungerford and their child about March 28, 1925, and is now in Sydney, Australia. It was also alleged by the petitioner that Mrs. Hungerford took with her $1,500 they had in the bank on a joint account with his wife and another $3,500 he had in a safety deposit box. Garfield A. King appeared for Hungerford, who described Kavanagh in his petition as a "well-known Communist agitator."

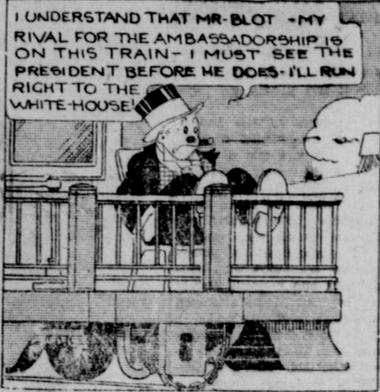

ADVICE IS GIVEN TO WOMEN WITH MONEY

Should Not Use More Than Thirty Per Cent of Money in Risky Speculations

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(By Canadian Press).—Women with funds were advised to put at least 70 per cent in solid dividend-paying mines, and if they wanted to take a flier they should not use more than 30 per cent of their money. Cyril Young said in the course of his address on "Canada's National Resources," before the Women's Canadian Club at Hygeia Hall.

The Glasgow, Scotland city government paid $35,000 for a portrait of Mary, Queen of Scots, painted by a contemporary French artist.

CHILDREN'S MASQUERADE

SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR LAST NIGHT UNDER AUSPICES OF PYTHIAN KNIGHTS AND SISTERS

A successful masquerade ball for the children was held last evening in the Boston Hall under the auspices of the Pythian Sisters and the Knights of Pythias. There was a large crowd present and their costumes were numerous and varied making it difficult for the judges to finally determine the prize winners in the different classes. The children enjoyed the dance program until about 9:30 when the decision of the judges was announced. Supper was then served for the younger ones after which dancing was indulged in by the adults until well after midnight. Mrs. Ponder's orchestra provided the music. Miss Mills, Mrs. W. B. Cornish, John Dore and D. H. Hartness acted as judges. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Mrs. W. N. Hoss, Mrs. M. Leek, Mrs. D. McCullough, W. N. Hoss, W. Burken, T. Roberts and F. Wesch.

Could Not Sleep Heart and Nerves Were So Bad

Mr. Geo. Meek, Windsor, Ont., writes: "I suffered with my heart and nerves and could not sleep at night for weeks in my head. I managed to keep at my work somehow, until I began to have dizzy spells which got so bad I could not go to my work. I was afraid to go out any place, for very often I would stagger on my feet, and everything in front of me would turn black and fade away. While I was home sick a friend told me to take

I got four boxes and by the time I had used them the pains and noises in my head ceased and I was able to get a good night's rest. Although that was six years ago I have never been troubled with that complaint again."

COBBLERS SCARCE IN FRANCE THESE DAYS

Dictate Their Own Wages and Get $50 Per Week Which is High There

PARIS, Feb. 15.—(By Canadian Press).—Shoemakers don't stick to their last in France or else the race is dying out. They are so scarce that they have been able to dictate their wage scale. The best of them get as much as $50 a week, which is extraordinary pay for a French worker.

To remedy the situation a new training school for bootmakers has been established under the general supervision of government trade school authorities. An attempt is being made to revive the dying custom of apprenticeship by shortening the necessary period through intensified preliminary training.

SPORT CHAT

Johnny Ricko, who has met three of the leading heavyweights, including Champion Gene Tunney, says Jack Delaney has more power behind his punches than either Tunney or Berlenbach.

That the great Canadian game of hockey is taking the southern sporting fans by storm is evidenced by the reports of well attended matches even away down in Texas. Kenny McKenzie, former manager of the Edmonton Eskimos, has his troupe of St. Paul Millionaires playing in the lone star state at present and he claims that all the games are well patronized even though the weather is too warm for an overcoat. The price charged for a rush seat is $1.00, with the better seats selling for $4.00. According to McKenzie the fans are more interested in a few players falling on their noses than in the science of the game. Plans are now under way for the construction of several more artificial ice rinks in the southern state.

Tonight the Grotto meet the Moose in a regular billiard league fixture and the result will be of interest to the other three teams. The Grotto are in the cellar position with 282 points while the Moose are tied for third place with 288 points, and the Grotto hold second place with 289 points. If the Moose win they will probably move into second place while if the Grotto win by a good margin they might easily move next to the leading Terminus. The games should be very interesting to all members of the competing teams.

Edwin Wide, Swedish running sensation, raced to a brilliant victory in his American debut at indoor games of the Newark A. C. last Wednesday night, lapping a field of four handicap starters in a 2500 yard event to win in six minutes and 28 4-5 seconds. Starting from scratch, the conqueror of Paavo Nurmi, more than fulfilled the expectations of a throng of 4,000 spectators with a display of form and speed comparable with his record performances abroad.
