BIG MILL AT GISCOME IS EXPECTED TO RESUME SAWING BEFORE THE END OF THE WEEK

The log scale for the Prince George district took a jump during the month of February, sufficient to put the scale for the first two months of the year almost one million feet in excess of that for the corresponding months of 1926 says the Prince George Citizen. The total scale for the months was 6,-241,256 feet, made up of spruce 4,-981,309, Douglas fir 1,005,719, lodgepole pine 452, and balsam 253,776. For the month of February 1926 the total scale of the district was 4,491,346, represented by spruce 3,875,558, Douglas fir 160,436, lodgepole pine 61,275, balsam 378,711, and cedar 15,366. For the first two months of the current year the district scale stands at 9,802,078 feet, and the scale for the corresponding months in 1926 at 8,880,773 feet.

in the output of poles and a drop in pany at Willow River, and the big mill past month. For the past month the ing this week. pole scale was returned at 33,840 lineal feet, as against 16,330, and the ties at CARD PARTY AND

It is conceded the past year has not been a very profitable one for the men engaged in sawmilling throughout Orangemen the district. They have got their costs of production down to the point which admits of their running upon a very small margin, but prices continued consistently low throughout the year. Two of the mills made a record of running throughout the entire winter, the Allen-Thrasher at Snowshoe, and the prize winners were as follows: Ladies' Cranbrooks mill to the west of Prince first, Mrs. George J. Dawes; ladies' sec-George. Sawing has been resumed by the Longworth Lumber company at Gillis Royer; men's second. H. Brown.

JUDGE ROBERTSON GIVES JUDGMENT IN CASE OF INTERIOR INTEREST

Judge Robertson of Prince George has handed down in the County Court a Smithers a decision of considerable interest which deals with the responsibility of those setting fires for any damage which may result therefrom. On June 24, the farm of a man named Berg, in the vicinity of Lake Kathlyn, was run There were fifteen tables of cards and over by fire and all improvements and the Berg shack caught fire its owner was sleeping and he lost everything even his clothing.

Berg entered suit against Charles Wilson, a neighbor, alleging he had se the fire, and that through his negligence the damage was occasioned. The case was tried at Smithers by Judge Robertson, who is relieving Judge Young, P. E. Wilson appeared for Berg and M. Gonzales, of Prince Rupert, and L. S. McGill, of Smithers, for the defendant Wilson.

The judgment handed down by Judge Robertson reviews the evidence taken at the trial and then proceeds: REVIEWS CASE
