Italy Will Get Rights Recognized When Army and Navy Strong Says Mussolini in Speech to Chamber

His successor not born yet so he will rule Italy for ten or fifteen years if necessary he declares

ROME, May 27.—"Italy will be able finally to see her rights recognized between 1935 and 1940 when we have a strong navy, a huge air force and will be able to mobilize an army of five million men." Mussolini made this pronouncement in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday in a speech in which he stated for the first time the definite goal he had been aiming at for the past five years. He declared further:

"I thought after five years I would have finished the major part of my work but now I see I have not. I am convinced that

NEWSPAPERS COMMENT

Conjecture as to Whether Those in League with Reds will be Deported

LONDON, May 27.—Sixteen documents with a list of addresses of many persons in Canada and the United States, and Central and South America which were found in the raid on Soviet House, have been issued by the Government as a "white paper." Included in the list of those in Canada are the following:

Maurice Spectre, 231 Palmerston Ave., Toronto.

Miss Skene, 54 Victor Avenue, Toronto.

Communist Party of Canada, 95 King Street East, Toronto.

Additional addresses allegedly found in possession of Anton Miller in Soviet House under the heading "Canada, Confidential Matter" were the following all of Toronto:

Charles Gray, 168 Lisgar St.

E. Piirtinen, 56 West Roxeter Ave.

Mrs. Mary Sutcliffe, 340 Vendall Ave.

OTTAWA, May 27.—The decision of the government to cancel the trade agreement with Russia was followed yesterday by a period of quiet. There was some conjecture as to whether any action would follow such as to secure the deportation of those included in the list of names in the white paper published in London.

LONDON, May 27.—The Canadian Government's decision to cancel the Dominion's trade agreement with Russia was given special prominence in the evening newspapers here yesterday. The Evening News says: "Canada's decision to cancel the trade agreement with Moscow is a gesture of loyalty to Great Britain that cannot be forgotten for the Dominion, like the mother country was profiting by her trade with Russia. It was a one-way trade, all in Canada's favor."

LABOR REQUEST FOR AN INQUIRY IS TURNED DOWN BY BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS ON VOTE OF 367 TO 112

LONDON, May 27.—After an exciting debate yesterday the House of Commons passed the following resolution: "This House, while appreciating the long forbearance of His Majesty's Government and their many efforts to maintain friendly diplomatic relations with the Soviet Republic in the face of acute provocation, applauds their decision to withdraw diplomatic privileges which have been so gravely abused, while at the same time putting no obstacles in the way of legitimate trade relations with Russia."

Prior to the passing of this motion a Labor motion moved by

J. R. Clynes, that the country ought not to be committed to the Government's policy of severance of diplomatic relations with Russia until after a full inquiry, was defeated on a vote of 367 to 112.

Speaking to the Clynes motion, Sir Austin Chamberlain told the House that the Government was not prepared to accept the motion asking that an inquiry be held into the Government's charges of Soviet propaganda in Britain which resulted in the decision to sever diplomatic relations. He declared that the Laborite motion amounted to a vote of censure and if it were carried the Government would know what steps it would be its duty to take.

Urges Prince Rupert People to Cultivate an Optimistic Spirit and Stop Knocking

"If you want to do something for this town, suggest to the people of Prince Rupert that they stop knocking each other and try to make the most of what they have," declared C. E. Forbes, logging manager of the Powell River paper mill with headquarters at Vancouver. "I have been in the city several days and I never came across as pessimistic a lot of people as I met here. Prince Rupert is a good city with enormous possibilities, but it can't succeed if everybody is working at cross purposes. The only road to success is to stop knocking and unite on mutual improvement and mutual help. I think the service clubs should unite on this. Let them deliberately ostracize any who knock their neighbors and try to get rid of that pessimistic spirit. It has a particularly bad effect on visitors.

Mr. Forbes was here in connection with the marketing of the hemlock and cedar logs for his company and he was very active while here. He spoke most enthusiastically of the improvement he saw in the city since his last visit. Incidentally he said he read yesterday's leading editorial in the Daily News and wished to congratulate the writer. He agreed with every word of it. He looked to see Prince Rupert grow very considerably within the next few years but it could not succeed unless the citizens were willing to help each other and to speak well of each other and the city instead of looking for the flaws.

Mr. Forbes spoke most enthusiastically of the development of Powell River by his company. He mentioned that it meant little to say that the output was between four and five hundred tons a day. To show better how much paper they made, he said if it were cut in a strip four feet wide, the strip made in one day would reach all the way from Vancouver to Montreal. This was done six days in the week and fifty two days in the year.

Mr. Forbes left last night for Vancouver on the steamer Prince Rupert.

Man Talking in London Was Seen Distinctly by Person Listening in Glasgow at Telephone Receiver

LONDON, May 27.—The Daily Mail describes a demonstration of television last evening by J. L. Baird, television expert, between London and Glasgow, a distance of 438 miles. He asserts that it eclipsed the test which was made between New York and Washington in April on account of the distance.

The head and shoulders of a man at the London end were distinctly shown in the Glasgow receiver, which also reflected the movements of the eyes and mouth.
