to his old job as manager of the Indians under a new ownership.

In the removal of Walter Johnson from the Washington Senators to the Newark International, passes another brilliant and veteran landmark from the Big Baseball Leagues. Surely the old order doth change for the new and, with housecleaning general at this time, many a picturesque figure is disappearing to the minors there to gradually ease to close careers that are now on the wane. And there is a general sigh of regret that they should go which cannot be extinguished even by the brilliant stars of the present day's youth. None are more brilliant and none more missed will there be than the "Big Train" whose star, like the rest, is now going down. Outstanding in all his long career of brilliance will be his performance when three years ago he was credited with bringing their first pennant to the Senators.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lipsett sailed by the Prince George last night on their return to Vancouver after having spent a fortnight in the city. Mr. Lipsett anticipates being back here again within six months' time.
