The evidence styles, having just returned of Mr. Nichol was more or less technical and a large number of statistics were submitted dealing with percentages of assessment in various years and the relation of the civic assessment-on other than the company's property—to the assessment of the company's property. since the year 1922 to the present year. Nichol, as presented through these comparisons, was that the assessment of city property had decreased during the past five years whereas the assessment of the company's holdings had increased. In answer to a question from Mr. of no reason why the property of the railway company should be assessed more in 1927 than in 1922. The number of leases on waterfront property was the n 1927 as in the year 1922. E. F. nes, in cross-examining Mr. Nichol, asked as to his information concerning the reported sale of the elevator property by the company to the government. The witness declared that he had no knowtedge of the sale and, even if Mr. Jones should read from Hansard the statement of Mr. Robb, the finance minister, it mount mentioned had been paid, would witness admit it to be a fair price. Mr. Nichol answered "No." Proceeding along this line, Mr. Jones elicited from the witness that the department of taxation often was asked for the assessed value of certain property, and a request for the assessed valuation of the elevator site, had resulted in the necessary information being given. WATERFRONT LEASES

> The matter of waterfront leases was the subject of numerous questions by curing leases due to the position of the 66 company which was in the hands of a receiver. It had apparently been the policy of the company, however, not to sell any of its waterfront property. The city solicitor then questioned the witness as to how he arrived at the value of the company's property when there were no sales made, and also asked how he, a resident of Winnipeg, was able to give an opinion on the value of property in Prince Rupert. The answer of Mr. Nichols related how he had spent some considerable time in the city and had gone over the property very thoroughly. There were many things to be taken into consideration in arriving at a valuation, which was possible even though there were no sales. G. H. Arnold, of this city, was the next witness for the railway company and, in answering counsel, gave his valuation of the various parcels of land along the waterfront, including the foreshore. from where the railway enters the city up to the land occupied by the salmon dock. The land was divided into waterfront property, right of way. graded acreage and ungraded acreage. and Mr. Arnold sought to give a valuation to the various descriptions. REPORTS OF PRINCIPALS SHOW SAT-ISFACTORY ATTENDANCE - NEW ROOM AT BORDEN STREET

Reports from the principals of the city schools, which were read at the meeting of the school board last night, showed satisfactory attendance in the various rooms for the past month. In a few cases, illness had slightly affected the average attendance but, on the whole, the attendance was good. Trustee H. B. Rochester, who was re-elected to the chairmanship of the board during his recent absence from the city. thanked the board for the confidence expressed. He had expected that some one else would have been assigned the duties of chairman for the coming year. The report of Miss Mills for Borden Street school showed an attendance during the month of an even 300 scholars of whom 145 were boys and 155 girls.

Deposits in the children's savings accounts amounted to $112 for the month. In supplementing the written report, Principal Hartness referred to needed improvements in the heating and ventilation plant and also asked the board to consider, in making up its estimates for the year, a small appropriation for the improvement of the school grounds. He referred also to the library which had been assisted by the
