STOMACH TROUBLE

Bad indigestion and poverty to the point of starvation ere recognized as equal evils as far back as the time of labbie Burns. Of what use is money or food, if the stomach ails in its duty?

The healthy person does not and should not even realize that he has a stomach. Digestion of wholesome, normal food should be automatic. But this cannot be if the stomach is receiving less than its full supply of vital en-

When the stomach fails in its functions, two courses of relief are available-you can reduce the quantity and variety of your food to fit its subnormal capacity-or, you can have the cause removed by spinal adjustments which restore the flow of vital energy to full capacity. Which is best?

"I EAT MOST ANYTHING."

"I have suffered from a bad form of stomach trouble for as long as I can remember-at least ten years. I have vomitted my food even when a schoolboy and have also been suffering a great deal from bladder and kidney trouble. I commenced to take adjustments taking 36 adjustments in all. Now, three months later my stomach is in good condition, and I can eat most anything I like without it hurting me. My severe bladder and kidney symptoms have also disappeared, and I feel fine." - Archie Preston, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2077-N.

Exceeding all records of the past is the program of fishing boat construction now under way at Prince Rupert. MOST OF HALIBUTTERS OFF

Although there are a few stragglers left, the large majority of the local halibut boats have cleared during the past week on their first trips of the season to the high spots. Some of the vessels were biding their time pending an improvement in weather conditions and a few are not yet ready to leave. It was stated by the customs on Thursday that forty-two had already cleared then. Such boats as the Toodie, Ringleader, Verna, Selma, W. T., N. and S., Fanny F., Johanna, Zeballos, H. and R. Muirneag, White Lily, Yule, Scrub and others were still in port yesterday.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare---should make a habit of reading the ads.
