VICTORIA CONCERN, OPERATING IN PORTLAND CANAL DISTRICT. ACQUIRES LUCKY BOY ON SALMON RIVER

VICTORIA, Jan. 18 .- A meeting of the shareholders of the Adanac Mines Company of Alaska was held in the offices of the comapny here, when approval was given the recent purchase by the directors of the "Lucky Boy" mineral claim, immediately adjoining on the west the Mammoth group on Fish Creek, in the Hyder district of Alaska, and situated about five miles from salt water on Portland Canal.

In view of the exceptionally favorable conditions under which a tunnel about 100 feet in length has been run on a well-defined lead showing values from $129.96 at the surface to $197.60 when the work was done about four this square cut ruby, was stolen years ago, those present at the meeting broad daylight from the principal expressed the greatest satisfaction.

NEW YORK JUDGE SAYS JURIES HAD RIGHT TO INQUIRE ABOUT EARL CARROLL'S BATH-TUB PARTY

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. - Two grand to Laurier House, Ottawa. juries had a perfect right to ask Earl Carroll, New York theatrical producer, whether anyone occupied a bathtub at a party in his theatre, although they were specifically investigating an leged liquor law violation, the United States Circuit Court of Appeals ruled here in affirming Carroll's conviction and sentence.

On February 22, 1926, Carrol gave party in his theatre here and newspaper accounts said Joyce Hawley, a show girl, had served men guests liquor from a bathtub in which she was seated, undraped. Federal officials ordered an investigation of the report that liquor had been served.

Carroll denied before two Federal grand juries that liquor had been! served and that anyone had occupied a tub. He was indicted for perjury for both statements.

A jury convicted him of perjury in saying no one was in the tub, but innocent in saying no liquor was served. Appeal was made on the ground that the grand jury investigation was concerned with liquor law investigation and that questions concerning occupation of the tub were immaterial to the issue.

Judge Manton, with two other judges concurring, ruled yesterday however, that the grand juries had a right to ask any questions they liked in their search for the truth.

Carroll, who was sentenced to serve one year and one day in the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta and fined $2,-000, is under bail. He announced yesterday in Washington that he was "very sorry to hear of the decision, and that he would consult his counsel before making a statement.

Herbert C. Smyth, his trial counsel, said here he would immediately take steps to have the United States Supreme Court review the decision of the circuit court on a writ of certiorari.
